FBI AGENTS Thursday raided this abandoned San Fernando Valley home suspected as the hideout of the kidnapers of Frank Sinatra Jr., and dug a tin box from the back yard in search of the $240,000 ransom money. Agents can be seen working in the back yard where they appeared to be making plaster casts of tire tracks and footprints. (UPI Telephoto)

Sinatra Sr. Identified 1 Or 2

Camera 'Shot' Abductors At Payoff, Report Claims

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A man identifying himself as a close friend of Frank Sinatra Sr. says he was told the FBI had a movie camera trained on kidnapers of Frank Jr. when they picked up the ransom money.

The informant, who asked that his name not be used, told the Oakland Tribune Thursday that Sinatra Sr. viewed the movies and tentatively identified one or two of the kidnapers.

Meanwhile, in Canoga Park northwest of Hollywood, the FBI lifted a guard at a ramshackle home raided by its agents Thursday.

Cartons were carried from the home and agents reportedly dug a metal box from the yard. But no arrests were announced. Newsmen at the scene got the impression the house had been abandoned.

The FBI would not say whether the raid was related to the Sinatra case but neighbors questioned by federal agents said they surmised it was.

Nor would the FBI comment on the Tribune story. An Associated Press reporter who tried to reach Sinatra Sr. during the night at his ex-wife's home in the Bel-Air section of Los Angeles was told by an FBI man that Sinatra would not comment on the Oakland report.

The Tribune identified its informant only as a director of one of the San Francisco Bay area's largest liquor distributorships. He said he was told a camera with a telescopic lens was used to photograph the pickup of the $240,000 ransom package in West Los Angeles.

Sinatra Jr., 19, was abducted Sunday night from his motel room at a Lake Tahoe resort on the California - Nevada border and was released unharmed not far from his mother's home early Wednesday morning after the ransom money was dropped at the pickup point.

While the FBI would not discuss the raid in Canoga Park, newsmen picked up scraps of information from others in the area.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Belford, owners of the raided home, said they rented the place Nov. 14 to a man who identified himself as Frank Long. Mrs. Belford said the man was about 30 years old, about 5 feet 9, slight of build, light complexion, and blond.

She said she saw him only once, when he rented the house. Neighbors said he was seen in the area as late as Tuesday.

The neighborhood postman, Cletus Scollon, said he delivered no mail to the most recent occupant of the home until Wednesday, when he left a package. He said the package was not in the mail receptacle when he made his rounds Thursday. He couldn't remember the name on the package.

Rusk Flies To Paris For NATO Talks

To Assess How Red Bloc Moves Affect Security Of West

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk took off for Paris today to attend an Atlantic Alliance foreign ministers meeting.

The conference of North Atlantic Treaty Organization ministers is expected to review dramatic changes in the Communist bloc as they affect the security of the Western world.

Rusk's plane was airborne at 7:58 a.m. (EST).

Traditionally, the defense and finance ministers of the 15 allied nations also attend the winter session of NATO's ministerial council meeting, and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon will assist Rusk at the three-day parley.

Rusk has an appointment with French President Charles de Gaulle on Monday. He also carries with him a message from President Johnson to the NATO ministers.

The official agenda of the Paris conference includes a review of the international situation, the question of cooperation in military research, civil emergency planning and East-West relations.

All other ticklish questions, such as NATO's long - range strategic planning—a source of much controversy among the Allies—and the desired level of conventional forces in the heart of Europe, were carefully omitted. These and some others were referred to the alliance's permanent council and it is not expected that the permanent delegates will report back to their ministers before the 1964 winter meeting.

The differences over these matters exist mainly between the United States and France. It is understood that the two agreed not to rock NATO's sensitive boat and concentrate on the broader political issue: What is going on behind the Iron Curtain and how events such as the Moscow - Peking dialogue and the bloc's economic troubles affect the West.

But Saturn Launching Postponed

U.S. Space Program Gets Boost With Titan's Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The United States man - in-space program has received a boost with the successful flight of a Titan 2 rocket and a setback with the postponement of the first two-stage launching of the Saturn 1. U.S. officials believe the Saturn 1 is the world's most powerful booster.

Meanwhile, the unmanned satellite program moved ahead with a space agency announcement today that it will attempt next Tuesday to orbit an improved Tiros 8 weather observatory capable of delivering "instant pictures" of cloud cover to more than 50 stations around the globe.

The Titan 2 rumbled 5,800 miles Thursday on a military test flight and proved its basic soundness for its assignment as the booster for the two-man Gemini spacecraft.

The first unmanned Gemini flight is scheduled in March, with the initial two-man orbital mission set for late next year.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced Thursday that the first two-stage Saturn 1 launching, which had been slated for Tuesday, had been postponed until at least late January because cracks were discovered in fittings which hold segments of pneumatic lines together in the first stages.

The flight already had been delayed four months because of problems associated with developing the second stage, which burns high-energy liquid hydrogen fuel.

The latest delay probably will scramble the already crowded 1964 Saturn 1 schedule, which lists six launchings, including the first efforts to orbit mockup models of the Apollo man-to-the-moon ship.

U.S. experts believe Saturn 1, with its 1.5-million-pound booster thrust and hydrogen upper stage, will give this nation the most powerful rocket in the world.

Batch Of 33 Will Be Shut Or Curtailed

Victim Of Economy Drive; Means Loss Of 16,300 Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon pushed ahead today with studies likely to lead to more military base closing moves in the year ahead — an election year in which such actions could be politically risky.

The studies are being conducted under the direction of Thomas D. Morris, quiet-spoken assistant secretary of defense in charge of installations and logistics.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who announced a new batch of 33 base shutdowns and cutbacks Thursday, leaned on the methodical surveys and analyses of Morris' experts in deciding which installations to keep and which to drop.

Over a 3½-year period, the move will cut off about 8,500 civilian jobs and result in a reduction of about 7,800 military personnel, McNamara said.

The defense secretary indicated there's more to come—and that some of the Navy's shipyards may fall victim to the McNamara efficiency test and the Johnson administration economy drive.

Obviously pleased, Morris told The Associated Press the $424-million-a-year savings now projected from more than 430 base shutdowns and cutbacks nearly hit the bullseye of a cost reduction target set almost three years ago.

He forecast the Defense Department will be able to reach a $600-million plateau in such savings in about three years.

McNamara said Thursday about $600 million a year is a "reasonable objective" to be achieved through further reductions in the 6,700 bases and installations in this country and overseas.

Most of the 400 base eliminations and curtailments ordered since March 1961 were spaced out and handled without national publicity, although there were local announcements.

Why, then, was it decided to deal with the latest 33 base cutbacks in a group? And why with a blare of trumpets?

Some Pentagon officials said the appraisal of base efficiency comes to a sharp focus at the

Only Flurries Slated

But It's Friday 13th

Instead of more snow, there will be scattered flurries to night through Saturday, according to the Ohio weatherman.

But Ohio Valley motorists better keep their fingers crossed because the forecast was issued on Friday the 13th.

However, the cold will deepen with 16 to 21 expected tonight for what could be the lowest mark of the season. It was not expected to go much above 30 today. The downtown has had 28 at 6 this morning. The weatherman said in a five-day forecast the mercury will average 9 to 14 degrees below normal through Wednesday.

8 Americans Lose Lives In Viet Crashes

Presumed Killed In Separate Plane And Helicopter Mishaps

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Eight U.S. servicemen were presumed killed Thursday in the separate crash of a big helicopter and an Army plane.

The twin-engine H37 helicopter plunged out of control and crashed in the guerrilla-infested Mekong Delta while carrying of another plane in a sling. It was not certain yet whether Communist gunfire or engine trouble downed the helicopter.

Five Americans were aboard. Rescuers recovered three bodies and a fourth was believed buried in the wreckage in Kien Phong province, 60 miles southwest of Saigon.

One crewman survived. He was brought to Saigon in serious condition, a U.S. military spokesman said.

Several hours later a single-engine Otter plane carrying four U.S. military advisers and three Vietnamese crashed in the central highlands on a flight from

Threats Used As 3 Men Rob Aged Woman

A 73-year-old East Liverpool woman told police three men posing as gas company employees gained entry to her home Thursday afternoon, then used threats and force to rob her of $141.

Mrs. Belva Graham, 735 Rigby St., said she was forced into the cellar of her home before the men removed $135 in currency from her purse and took $6 in change from a cupboard while ransacking the premises.

Mrs. Graham said the three came to her door around 3 p. m. and told her they were gas company employees and wanted to check her home for leaks.

After they entered the house, one of the men put a lighted match to a stove pipe and pretended to discover a leak, she said. The men told her she would have to post $30 as security that repairs would be made, she related.

Mrs. Graham said she refused the demand for money and one of the men then took an unidentified object from his sleeve and pointed it at her.

"If you scream, I'll kill you," she said he warned her.

Young Driver Gives Self Up After Mishap

2 Parked Cars Hit, Passenger In One Witnesses Hit-Skip

An 18-year-old district youth surrendered himself to police Thursday after allegedly leaving the scene of a three - way auto mishap at W. 7th and Jackson Sts.

Jerald Ray Post of the Irish Ridge Rd. identified himself as the driver of a 1954 sedan which rounded the turn from Jackson St. onto W. 7th St. about 2:07 p.m. yesterday, striking a parked 1964 model auto owned by Central Service, Inc., of W. 7th St., and then veering into a parked 1960 sedan occupied by Harley W. Crummitt, 60, of New Cumberland R. D. 2, officers said.

Crummitt told police he was seated in his car when the unidentified auto rounded the corner and hit the Central Service auto, veered across the street and hit the Crummitt car, then continued without stopping.

Post went to headquarters later, identified himself as the driver of the third vehicle and said he became frightened and went home after the collision.

The mishap damaged the right front fender and bumper of Crummitt's car, the bumper of the Central Service car and the left front and right rear fenders of the Post auto, police said.

Post was charged with leaving the scene of an accident. Police records show Post was

State Police Officer

Appointed Detective

District Attorney - elect Robert Masters of Midland has appointed State Police Sgt. John Krzton as chief Beaver County detective.

Sgt. Krzton, who has been in charge of the Beaver County barracks since 1952 and will complete 25 years' service with the State Police early in January, will succeed Russell Meskow of Aliquippa, Meskow has been chief detective under District Atty. Richard P. Steward for the last 12 years.

Krzton was recommended by a committee of six Beaver County residents appointed by Masters to suggest a person for the post. County observers said they expect the other two detectives — Louis Police and Stephen Mihalic — to remain.

Woman Fined $100

Guilty Plea Filed On Lottery Case

A woman tavern operator was fined $100 and costs and given a suspended 30-day jail term when she pleaded guilty today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of possessing numbers slips and lottery tickets.

Mrs. Judith Thompson, 715 Dresden Ave., was the first person arrested in East Liverpool on such a charge in 18 months, the judge commented before imposing sentence. She was identified as the proprietor of Judy's Bar, 713 Dresden Ave.

The court questioned the defendant after the guilty plea was entered, then heard testimony from Ray Wilkinson of Fremont, one of three State Liquor Control Board enforcement agents who cited her Dec. 5.

Queried about the source of the slips and lottery tickets, she said:

"I don't know, only the man's name."

QUESTIONED further, she said a man named "Rex" left the papers in her tavern in a paper sack. She said she did not know his last name.

"This is the first case of this kind in 18 months," the judge commented.

"The court was of the opinion we have done a good job in cleaning the town out. This sort of thing can't be stopped completely, but it has been driven underground."

Turning to Mrs. Thompson,

Order Eases 'Wrong Way' Parking Rule

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen and Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi have issued the annual order instructing police not to ticket autos in residential areas for so - called "wrong way" parking.

But officers will continue to issue citations in the area generally regarded as the business district, the order says.

The area in which ticketing will continue is spelled out in the joint order. It is bounded on the north by W. 9th St., on the south by 2nd St., on the east by College St. and on the west by Jefferson St.

Suspension of the "wrong way parking" rule always is made with the arrival of the first real snowfall of the winter. It is designed to allow residents of hill-side streets to park their autos headed downgrade for ease in pulling away from the curb.

If an auto is parked headed upgrade on a steep hill it often is difficult or impossible for the motorist to pull onto the street.

The order of the director and the chief suspends one para-

Yule Mail Lagging

Post Office To Be Open Saturday Afternoon

With the sale of stamps and mailings running between 10 and 15 per cent behind last year, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown reminded that stamp windows at the main and Station A offices will be open until 5 p.m. Saturday.

To aid customers, a stamp window at the downtown office

425 Children Write Santa At North Pole

Some 425 East Liverpool children have received replies to letters sent to Santa Claus at his Zip Code address at the North Pole, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said.

The cards show Santa in his sled with "Mr. Zip" and bear the Zip Code number of 99701 and explain to the youngsters that his helper will help him locate homes. The messages bear the postmark of the North Pole branch.

only will be open Sunday from noon to 4 p.m., Brown added. When cancellations in the first few days of the normal Christmas mailing period were running ahead of 1962, Brown believed that residents were taking advantage of the many requests to mail early.

But now the cancellations and stamp sales are running behind and the postmaster warned the longer the mail is delayed the less chance for delivery unless they use air mail or special delivery for distant points.

A total of 800,000 pieces of mail were handled by the Post Office between Dec. 1-25 last year. So far this year, approximately 110,000 cards, letters and packages have been received. "But the heaviest rush is still to come," Brown said.

The yearly flood of mail is expected to descend on the Post Office this weekend, Brown predicted, and continue for about a week.

"People sending Christmas cards today at the 5-cent rate pay the same to mail Yule greetings as Americans did more than a century ago," Brown commented, pointing out the department in 1847 issued its first stamps, including a nickel stamp for the basic prepaid letter rate.

The use of first class postage is recommended, Brown said, since it permits forwarding or return of the letter where necessary, allows the use of a handwritten message for a personal touch, and provides speedier handling and faster delivery, particularly for greeting cards going out of town.

Brown urged residents to use the Christmas stamp showing the national Christmas tree on the eastern elipse at the nation's capitol for greeting cards. However, the supply of the stamps is dwindling, he said.

With the greeting card industry reporting the average family will mail about 100 cards during the holiday season, Brown suggested patrons avoid trouble and purchase two 100-stamp sheets of the Yule stamp. "That will eliminate a last-minute panic in remembering someone you overlooked, and, naturally, the stamps are useable for postage at any time."

With people using more expensive greeting cards, it seems a shame to use third class postage because if the addressee has moved the department normally cannot forward the card. "It's poor economy to try to save a few pennies and lose several dollars worth of cards in the bargain," he concluded.

Numbers

he said: "You know possession of these things is against the law!"

Then he imposed the jail sentence and the fine.

"THE 30-DAY term will be suspended on condition you get out of the numbers business," he told the defendant. "You make sure that the mysterious 'Rex' stays out of your place or sure as anything you will go to jail!"

The liquor agents displayed the alleged numbers slips and lottery tickets to the judge.

The numbers slips were essentially blank pieces of paper covered with three digit numbers, then a dash and two more figures. They appeared to be carbon copies. Some of the slips bore the initials "RC" in the upper right corner.

There were two types of raffle tickets. One listed a $1,000 prize, but the sponsor's name did not appear. The other was good for "a case of Canadian Club or cash." Printed on the face as sponsor was the name of the LaCroft volunteer fire department.

About nine per cent of the employed U. S. population now works on farms.

charged at 2:40 p.m., about 35 minutes after the mishap.

Pleading guilty today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, he was given a suspended 30-day term in County Jail. His driver's license was suspended for 90 days, but the court stipulated it may be used to drive to and from work.

The jail term was suspended on condition of future good behavior, including regular church attendance. The judge said the youth reported he already has made restitution for the damage to the two autos.

Two autos and a truck were damaged in two other collisions yesterday afternoon.

A 1956 two-door sedan driven by Henry Roach, 21, of 1937 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. collided in Flint Alley at 4:35 p.m. with a 1948 model truck operated by James Shields, 43, of 513 Mulberry St., police said.

Roach told police he was headed east on Pennsylvania Ave. when a car in front of him stopped suddenly. To avoid hitting the unidentified auto, he swung into Flint Alley and collided with the truck, he said. There was damage to the front of each vehicle.

In another mishap at 3:51 p.m. on W. 6th St. near Dresden Ave., there was a collision between a woman's auto and metal street light poles on a trailer.

The mishap broke the windshield of a 1960 sedan driven by Mabel B. Kane, 53, of 403 Wedgewood St.

It also involved a parked 1956 model truck-trailer operated by John F. Jack, 49, of 559 Campground Rd. and owned by Commonwealth System, Inc., of Steubenville.

The metal poles were being removed from spots along the street and loaded onto the trailer, officers explained. The woman said she was driving slowly on W. 6th when her auto hit a pole protruding from a trailer attached to the truck. She said there were no warning signs at the scene and she believes the pole swung into her auto.

Jack told police the truck and trailer were stopped while a crew loaded poles which had been removed from the street. The metal poles formerly supported street lights. They were replaced by new metal standards when a fluorescent lighting system was installed in the business district.

graph of Section 470 of the City Code, which says:

"No vehicle shall be stopped or parked on a road or highway with the vehicle facing in a direction other than in the direction of travel on that side of the road or highway."

The two officials acted under Section 403 of the City Code, which authorizes them to issue temporary rules on traffic and parking enforcement that can be in effect for a maximum of 90 days.

The officials always make it a practice to delay issuance of the order as long as possible so the 90-day order will ease parking well into the late winter or early spring.

Newell And Midland Cars Figure In Crash

Hancock County sheriff's deputies investigated a two-car mishap in Newell Wednesday night involving drivers from Newell and Midland.

The sedan of Helen L. Suznevich, 35, of Midland Heights, going north on Washington St., was struck by the car of Robert Malhon, 37, of 105 Grant St., Newell. Malhon was turning onto Washington from 6th St., deputies said.

They estimated $200 damage to the woman's car. The accident happened at 11:35.

Annual Christmas Fete Held By WSCS At Georgetown

The WSCS of the Georgetown Methodist Church held its annual Christmas party Wednesday night at the church with Mrs. Louis Wagner in charge of the program and devotions.

The Scripture was read by Mrs. John Nash and prayer was offered by Mrs. Walter Reed.

Mrs. Charles Finley was guest organist for carol singing and the Church Choir sang "O Holy Night" with Miss Flora Nash soloist.

Mrs. Wagner led quizzes on Christmas and Mrs. Paul Mackall, president, conducted brief business.

Cards were sent to shutins and Christmas baskets will be delivered to the sick and shutins. The project is directed by Mrs. James Adney, Mrs. Frederick Butcher and Miss Nash.

A red and silver color scheme was used in decorating the sanctuary and social room with the committee including Mrs. Mackall, Mrs. Adney, Mrs. Butcher and Miss Nash.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Wendell Welborn, Mrs. Walter Reed, Mrs. Donald Mc-

Haffie, Mrs. Harry Schmidt and Mrs. William Reckner.

Guests were Mrs. Charles Finley, Mrs. John Finley, Mrs. Paul Hewitt, Mrs. Walter Allison and Miss Harriet Mackall.

Mrs. Walter Allison was hostess for the annual Christmas party and gift exchange of the Guild of St. Luke's Episcopal Church Tuesday night.

Mrs. Samuel Laughlin, president, led the Christmas contests with gifts being won by Mrs. Robert Trimble, Mrs. Philip Schaefer and Mrs. Louis Wagner. Mrs. Laughlin also conducted devotions and business at which the annual thank-offering was received.

Guests included the Rev. Philip Schaefer, rector, who offered prayer; Mrs. William Reckner, Mrs. Walter Reed, Miss Flora Nash and Mrs. Wagner. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Richard Trimble will be hostess for the January meeting assisted by Mrs. John Mackall.

Mr. and Mrs. George Howlett have concluded a visit with Mr. and Mrs. William Evans of Detroit.

Bases

end of the budget year—that is, when the new budget is being put in its final shape.

This is such a time, and could explain the decision to lop off a number of bases in a search for the last measure of economy.

As for the wide publicity, this likely stems from the Johnson administration's demonstrated desire to impress its frugal-mindedness on the country.

While economy in government is politically appealing, it carries certain risks. Thus, a community which loses a military base and several thousand jobs could resent such economy at its expense—and vote accordingly.

2,000 To Be Affected In Ohio Base Closing

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP)—The impact of the closing of the Erie Army Depot west of here will be minimized as much as possible, according to Col. A.W. Stoddard, depot commander.

"There will be a program to provide continuing employment to all those affected," he said at a news conference Thursday. "The action here cannot take place overnight. I assure you every employee will be given every consideration humanly possible."

The depot has about 2,000 employees. They got the word officially Thursday that the depot would be phased out over a three-year period.

According to the announcement from Washington Thursday by the Defense Department, shutdown of the supply and maintenance mission at the Erie depot will eliminate 850 civilian jobs. That was the figure, along with 32 military jobs, given in the listing of job eliminations at the installations affected by Secretary Robert S. McNamara's economy edict.

(Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) told the Cleveland Plain Dealer Thursday he has protested "most vigorously" the phasing out of storage and maintenance work at the Erie Depot at Port Clinton. (He said he has sent stiffly-worded letters to both President Johnson and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.)

Lisbon VFW Dinner, Dance To Be Saturday

LISBON — The Veterans Day dinner-dance of VFW Post 4111 will be held Saturday night in the McKinley Room of the post home.

The event was postponed from Nov. 23 because of the assassination of the President.

William McDevitt, commander, said a cocktail hour will be held at 6 preceding the dinner, with dancing set for 9.

Robbery

The man then forced her into the cellar.

His two companions ransacked the home, taking the currency from the purse and a quantity of small change from the cupboard, she related.

Mrs. Graham reported the robbery to Patrolman Paul Lemal, desk officer. Capt. Robert H. Pyle and Patrolman Jerry Adkins investigated.

Pyle said the local department was advised this morning three men of the same general description worked the same deception Thursday night on an elderly Wheeling couple, obtaining about $100.

In the Wheeling case, the men claimed they had detected a leak around a gas furnace. The captain said he believes a cigarette lighter with a long wick and a big flame was used to give the appearance of flaming gas around a pipe.

In the East Liverpool case one of the men was described as 6 feet, about 40, with "a rough, ugly face." His companion wore a light coat and was about 30. He was described by the victim as "a slim young fellow." No description was obtained of the third man.

Nha Trang to Ban Me Thuot. There apparently were no survivors, a spokesman said.

The plane had failed to make radio contact shortly after taking off. There was no explanation immediately for the crash.

No names of victims were announced. The helicopter was one of five H37s in Viet Nam used to recover crashed planes and helicopters. It was the first of its kind to crash here.

It was lifting the wreckage of a plane that crashed Wednesday after engine trouble. The American pilot and Vietnamese observer had bailed out safely.

Soviet Farm Crisis Is Real

There is this bitter irony in the Soviet Union's agricultural crisis — that official worrying is being done in the open about the most carefully concealed problem plaguing the Kremlin.

The problem existed under the czars. Part of it is implicit in the Russian climate and terrain. Shortcomings of climate and soil have been aggravated by the shortcomings of Marxian economics, which were not designed for agriculture and have proved disastrous wherever they have been tried.

Premier Khrushchev, himself a Russian agricultural "expert," now is talking about a $46 billion program to increase fertilizer production during the next seven years. But this will not be the answer, either.

It will have the same shortcomings as all the other collectivized projects for agriculture have had. Agriculture does not lend itself to master plans and mass projects. That isn't the way farming works.

AGRICULTURE is not like mass production in industry — human beings attending automated machinery a few hours a day. Agriculture is a 24-hour-a-day relationship between men and the productivity of the earth — a personal matter. Under Marxism, this is not permissible. Individualism is forbidden.

So there will be a $46 billion program to increase chemical production. Russian farmers who never have used anything but organic fertilizer can have tons of chemical fertilizer, instead, promises the Kremlin.

There will be a vast program to import wheat. Emphasis will be switched from world revolution to agricultural revision — but only revision at first, not what Marxists mean when they accuse each other of "revisionism."

"Revisionism" is an unauthorized departure from pure doctrine. The sensational story implicit in what Premier Khrushchev is putting under way at this time is the possibility he may be laying the groundwork for official "Revisionism" — an authorized departure from Marxism.

KARL MARX knew no more about agriculture than a Russian pig knows about Yom Kippur. His doctrinaire ideas had no more application to farming than they had to sculpting in funny putty. Yet, his followers have been striving mightily, in the midst of hunger pangs, to make Russian agriculture fit doctrinaire Marxism.

Nikita Khrushchev, the realist, and farm expert, knows why Marxism is no good for Russian agriculture. Farmers will work for the soil. They will work for themselves. They will work for other people. But they will not work for an ideology that to them is meaningless because it was designed for the proletariat, not peasants.

The Soviet farm crisis is real. It always has been.

The difference is that now the Soviet Union's chief farm expert — its premier — may be getting ready to institute what may turn out to be the most drastic "revisionism" of Marxist history.

Either there must be an about-face or the collapse of the Russia's economy at its weakest point—agriculture.

Back To The Board Of Regents

It is reassuring to learn from Ohio Finance Director Richard L. Krabach that the Ohio Board of Regents will be in on the last act of higher education appropriations for this biennium, even though the board was left out of most of the first act last week.

The regents will be able to control release of the funds by the State Controlling Board, which has final say in any appropriation. This affords a double safeguard against haphazard spending.

We were concerned and still are, for that matter, over the way the Ohio General Assembly doled out capital improvements funds last week without regard to an over-all plan. Learning that the regents will be in authority when it comes time to do the actual spending does much to alleviate that concern.

BUT THE FACT is, the legislature bit hard on the money hook that was dangled before it. Although the appropriation is only an authorization to spend when and if money becomes available, the Rhodes administration wasted no time in "promising" funds to various institutions. The legislature went along with this and even increased the size of the promises in many instances.

Someone Should Make A Study

Defense Secretary McNamara, acting for President Johnson, says 26 domestic and seven overseas military bases will be phased out of existence during the next few years.

This is part of the federal saving Americans have been saying should be carried on before federal tax reduction is voted by Congress. The Johnson administration is apparently inclined more favorably to pare expense than the Kennedy administration had been.

But who is cheering the announcement that the bases will be closed? Nobody.

SOMEONE should make a study of what happens when the federal government says it is going to close an installation.

Telegraph wires crackle and telephones ring. Pens are clutched in hand and wrathful indignation is given a free rein. The economizers are told in plain and forceful language that they must be out of their minds to consider such a thing as kicking the props from under Parasite Valley, the Garden Spot of the Middle West.

Every arm that can be twisted gets twisted, and every ear that can be bent is bent. The loyal sons and daughters of Parasite Valley make themselves heard and felt. "The squeaking wheel gets the grease," they learned when they were absorbing wisdom at their parents' knees—so they squeak.

IF ANY federal spending is going to be discontinued, they squeak, it should be somewhere else besides Parasite Valley. And that's what happens to the idea of saving money.

Poor Defense Secretary McNamara is about to be belted from all directions simultaneously, because Parasite Valley is not only in the Middle West.

It is everywhere in the U.S.A.

Hard Time Ahead

A fellow could write a book about the way a new president of the United States latches onto his job.

It is infinitely harder than being a king or a queen, because royalty doesn't have to worry about re-election. And it is double infinitely harder than being a dictator, because a dictator doesn't have to ask people. He tells 'em.

Take our new president. By the time Merry Christmas, Happy New Year and the political moratorium are over next January, he will have set such a pace that his competitors will burn themselves out trying to match it. Anything will be OK. No holds will be barred.

The new president is the kind that will keep working while others are sleeping. And to make his opponents' task even more difficult, they can't work him over until he has done enough to give them targets for the pot-shots they are duty-bound to take, beginning next month.

EVERYBODY says and nobody disagrees that the presidency of the United States is the world's toughest job. But nobody wants to say that this is so because it's a job where you lose if you win as well as lose if you lose.

No one is ever satisfied. There never has been a president of the United States who was acclaimed an unqualified success. The ones who did the greatest things were targets for the most dead cats. They earned respect by the abuse they withstood.

There are no bargain prices for historic stature, and not everybody is willing to meet the cost. This is the challenge of the presidency.

LYNDON B. JOHNSON really wanted to be president, and he ran in 1960 with another man who really wanted the job. This will make it easier for him to take the carping and criticism when they start. It won't be involuntary servitude.

And they will start. Make no mistake about it. As editorialists keep pointing out, this is the two-party system. There are no great men by acclamation in America. There are only great men by survival.

If they can stand there in the plush pillory known as the White House and field every brick bat and dead cat thrown their way, they have a chance to win the grudging admiration of their assailants, sometimes even before they finally succumb to the vicissitudes of the office. Good luck, Mr. President.

But be ready to duck when holiday good will and political uncertainty blow away on the howling winds of January. There's a hard time ahead.

Latest Elephant Story

Johnson Calls Upon Humphrey Again

By Victor Riesel

It has not been reported, but a few hours after Lyndon Johnson became President he contacted the dynamic ultra-liberal Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey and asked him to become liaison man between the White House and the nation's influential labor leaders.

This put together again the old 1960 pre-convention combination. It lost then to Jack Kennedy. But the friendship between Mr. Johnson and Sen. Humphrey stuck.

Shortly after talking with President Johnson that explosive Friday, the senior senator from Minnesota was on the phone. He reached some of the labor men, such as Mr. Johnson's good friend, David Dubinsky, the garment leader, hours before the President did. Humphrey said he was calling on behalf of the President who would soon be calling personally.

However, the President did reach some of the other labor men first. When Humphrey got in second, he repeated his appeal for personal support for "Lyndon" and cut away fast.

HUMPHREY, in effect, headed a team of telephoners, which included such important national figures as Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges, Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz and Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs G. Mennen Williams.

Thus, the Minnesotan immediately stirred the Washington political insiders into predictions that he would be President Johnson's running mate in '64. Could be — and it could not.

There is no doubt that Mr. Johnson wanted Humphrey in '60. The then senator from Texas was so close to Humphrey that Washington lawyer, Jim Rowe, an intimate of Mr. Johnson's, was lend - leased by the Johnson camp to the Humphrey campaign caravan.

Humphrey and Rowe put up a good fight — but labor support went to Jack Kennedy. However, so bad did the labor leaders feel about having to break with Humphrey during the primaries, that they sent several delegations to him to apologize.

Labor made Hubert Humphrey. But none of this means that he will be its choice for the vice presidency next year.

LABOR KNOWS that the presidential nominee can almost always choose his own partner. This time, though, Mr. Johnson is listening mightily intently to his labor friends — especially those in the industrial North.

These labor leaders have in the past been able to deliver the balance of power votes in such big states as New York. They want to continue building their strength.

They love "Hubert." But they don't believe he can help pile up industrial city votes. They do believe New York City's mayor, Robert Wagner, can — and some of them confer with him almost daily.

The labor men also see Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg as potentially a strong candidate. He is close to Mr. Johnson, who has not forgotten a luncheon conversation with the Justice not too long ago.

It came after some reports in the public prints that a White House bloc was preparing to "dump" the vice president at next year's nominating convention. These same reports said that the White House group was considering asking Justice Goldberg to run in Mr. Johnson's place.

WHEN THE JUSTICE read the stories he telephoned Mr. Johnson for a luncheon appointment. As they broke bread, Mr. Goldberg assured the Texan that he opposed the drive against him, that he had not in the slightest manner inspired or discussed the stories and that he supported him for renomination.

Now there is talk again of Justice Goldberg as a vice presidential candidate. Within the ethical bounds of his position on the high court, he still is close to powerful labor men who are his old friends. He would run strongly in the big cities.

Although he has positively refused even to discuss the possibility of a return to private life or political activity, I believe he would accept a call from the President.

What the labor men want of President Johnson is the selection of a vice presidential candidate who will help them swing the big cities — all the way from Philadelphia and New York to Los Angeles.

Thus, there also is discussion of California's governor, Pat Brown and Attorney General Robert Kennedy.

Meanwhile, no one is committed to anybody. But whoever it is, the nominee will be an intimate of America's labor leadership.

Chicanery At U.N.

By David Lawrence

Johnson Has Golden Opportunity In Talk

President Johnson has a significant opportunity to raise the moral tone of the United Nations when he addresses it next Tuesday in New York. For the U.N. has deteriorated into a political machine largely directed by Moscow with the aid of the so-called Afro-Asian bloc.

David Lawrence

Instead of functioning as an organization dedicated to the political independence and self-determination of member states, the U.N. now actually passes resolutions interfering with the internal affairs of certain non-Communist countries but refuses to apply equal treatment to governments which keep their peoples enslaved as the right of self-determination is denied them.

The latest example of the political chicanery practiced by the U.N. came at a time when the peoples of the free world were absorbed in studying the news of a change in the presidency of the United States and the after effects.

It perhaps is not yet realized that the U.S.N. Security Council unanimously passed a few days ago a resolution calling on its members to impose an embargo on the Republic of South Africa just because that country's racial policies are considered improper. Implicit in the resolution are threats of even stronger action if South Africa fails to conform its internal policies to the U.N.'s demands.

THE U. N. Charter permits resolutions to embargo arms shipments when there is a threat to international peace, but it can hardly be persuasively contended that the internal restricting of Negroes and whites in separate residential areas—objectionable as it may be to many people—is by any stretch of the imagination or by any rule of international law a threat to world peace.

The role the United States took in this strange episode—including a vote for the resolution—is defended in the State Department as one of desirable expediency. It's conceded that the U.N. is acting in a one-sided manner, but the point is made that the United States did succeed in its effort to keep the arms-embargo resolution voluntary rather than mandatory and did succeed in preventing an oil embargo from being imposed also.

A rule of expediency is characteristic of political behavior, though it is often unmoral. The United States in the past has proclaimed some basic principles in giving its support to the Charter of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, principles now have been swept aside, and the faction in the U.N. which has gained by such tactics is the one that is closest to Moscow. Indeed, the whole plan for imposing an arms embargo was undoubtedly engineered by the Kremlin as a means of lining up allies for the Soviet Union among the African nations.

IF THE U.N. is to be operated, however, on the basis of what will please the maximum number of governments, irrespective of their fidelity to principle or their concern for international law, then the value of the organization itself in future years will steadily diminish.

The whole question is today being treated superficially in America. Many thoughtful people, for instance, have suggested that the time may have come to consider American withdrawal from the U.N., only to be assailed as not interested in world peace.

The argument is advanced that the U.N. really is a useful force for international peace and only incidentally a political tool of the Kremlin.

The U.N. record in dealing with internal questions, however, is neither consistent nor courageous. When India deliberately took over the Portuguese territory of Goa, the United Nations failed to protect Goa, though the United States denounced the takeover.

Nor did the U.N. insist on sending its investigating committee into Hungary to get the facts about the Soviet military invasion of that country and the imposition of measures that suppressed the free government in Budapest.

IN BRIEF, the U.N. has been of no help in curbing Soviet colonialism, and it has acquiesced in the continued domination by the Moscow government over the captive peoples of East Germany, Hungary, Romania, Poland, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Estonia, Lithuania and Latvia.

Certainly the "apartheid" which the Soviet government has established by its rule over peoples of many nationalities and races is far more a threat to international peace than the separation of millions of uncivilized tribesmen in one South African country from residence in areas where white men and women and their children happen to live.

The U.N. today, unfortunately, doesn't seem to be concerned with the sovereign rights of nations, as its charter requires.

Apparently the U.N. political code means catering to the new African governments, whose naive and inexperienced leaders may some day find the U.N. intervening in their own affairs, too, just as happened in the Congo.

Perhaps at that time American taxpayers will not be willing to pick up the tab for the expenses incurred in trying to maintain order as they did for the U.N. military operations in the Congo, to which the Soviet Union, hasn't contributed a single ruble.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:
It's late. I'm in my study. I've listened to ministers and lay people most of the day. I'm writing in behalf of myself, not my church, nor the ministerial association, though I love each. And in a sense I represent each. I'm pastor of one and president of the other.

At present there is a concern over business practices on Sunday, or the Sabbath. May I remind ourselves that through the long history of mankind, it's good to be free from labor at least one day a week. I appeal to ministers and churches, businessmen and laboring men. We will be happier, in mind and body, to abstain from "making money" . . . "commercialization" for at least one day out of each week. This day in our beloved land has been and usually is accepted as Sunday.

May I remind ourselves that in the land we all love so well, there has been a decline in morals. The use of Sunday is only one aspect of our moral lives. Also, we have allowed violence and hate to creep into our thinking, which is also immoral. We have winked at the breaking of laws. This is immoral. A continual breaking of the law and morals may return to haunt us through our children.

To write a scathing denunciation of any person or organization engaged in wrong practices may in itself be evil . . . evil in my heart. Yet, there must be something said for those fine citizens of our community who sense the real value of giving their employees one day off, of abstaining from the business of "making money", of honoring God and worshipping Him, of resting both body and mind and the cash register . . . for one day each week. Also, in our very endeavor to build a good society, or a Godly society, we never build anything by cutting off heads. To insist on law and morality is our duty, our prerogative, but, "By My Spirit", says the Lord.

Gyp Methods Outlined

Chamber Gives Warning Of Yule Season Swindles

The Chamber of Commerce today warned East Liverpool district residents to be on guard against fraudulent and misleading sales and promotional schemes that flourish during the Christmas rush.

Each year, thousands of hurried and unwary gift shoppers are victimized by the sharp operators who step up their activities during the holiday season, the Chamber warned.

According to the National Better Business Bureau, with which the Chamber is affiliated, seasonal swindlers drain millions of dollars annually from consumers and businessmen throughout the nation. They capitalize on the fact that people tend to be more generous and trusting and less likely to turn down a "charity" request in the holiday season, the BBB pointed out.

THE CHAMBER said holiday shoppers can protect themselves by avoiding fly-by-night operators and by making Christmas purchases from dealers of known reliability.

Based on past experience, it said, the following schemes can be expected to make their appearance again this year:

Mail-order "bargain offers" quoting toys, watches, jewelry and other items allegedly at a fraction of the retail price. When the gift arrives it may be a cheap imitation of the item thought to have been ordered.

Mail and phone appeals for donations from unknown charitable organizations.

ATTEMPTS TO collect on COD packages supposedly for your neighbor who, the deliverer says, "is not home." The packages may contain unordered merchandise or merely paper or cotton wadding.

Mail-order schemes in which you get a claim stub telling you that the shipper is holding a package which will be sent on return of the stub and a small amount. If you send the money, you get a cheap pen and pencil set or something similar which you never ordered.

Unordered merchandise appeals by unknown charitable organizations with requests for donations for the goods shipped.

PERSONAL appeals by mail from self-described needy individuals seeking clothing, food, fuel and funds.

Distribution of "courtesy cards" for purchasing gifts at discounts from fictitious prices.

The Chamber said various perfume hoaxes were prevalent in past years and have already reappeared in some areas in one form or another. Prime targets are executives who buy gifts in quantity at Christmas. Sales may be attempted in offices, at factory gates, on the street, door-to-door or in some offices.

THE MOST widespread perfume scheme involves the sale of well-known brands of colognes and toilet water re-bottled in small, purse size containers by companies having no connection with the original manufacturer.

The purse size containers generally are similar in size and appearance to those used to sell small quantities of genuine perfumes.

The public is fooled into believing that it is buying expensive perfume at a bargain price. Actually, cologne and toilet water are being sold at several times the regular retail price of the product packaged by the manufacturer.

OTHER PERFUME hoaxes involve the use of counterfeit labels of well-known brands on cheap imitations, phony pricing and the sales of spray containers labeled with the fragrances.

The Chamber made these additional points:

Consumers who receive unordered merchandise through the mails generally are not obligated to return it or pay for it, unless it is used. They are required to surrender it if the shippers or their agents call for it within a "reasonable" time.

Consumers ordered Christmas gifts from mail-order firms should generally allow three or four weeks for delivery.

Sales may be final. Ascertain conditions of sale and obtain guarantees in writing.

Examine purchases before Christmas. Don't expect transient vendors to be around after the holiday to listen to complaints.

Highway Patrol Seeks Recruits As Dispatchers

Sgt. R. J. Rizzo, in charge of the Lisbon Patrol Post, said today there are vacancies in the Highway Patrol for cadet dispatchers and applications for these positions are being accepted from qualified men at the post on Route 30, a mile south of Lisbon.

To qualify for a cadet dispatcher, a young man must meet these basic requirements: at least 20 years of age, 5-feet 8, weigh 165, have a high school education or its equivalent, be in good physical condition, of a good moral character, and a resident of the state.

A cadet dispatcher serves first at a patrol post and later is enrolled in the Training Academy at Columbus for 14 weeks of instruction prior to appointment as a highway patrolman.

Service in the patrol is limited to those who meet the high requirements and serve first as cadet dispatchers and then successfully complete the prescribed training.

Sgt. Rizzo urged young men in the area who meet the basic requirements and are interested in law enforcement as a career to apply in person at the patrol post for application and further information.

Senior Citizens Plan Activities

Future activities were planned and committee reports were heard at the business meeting of the Senior Citizens Group Thursday afternoon in the Parish Hall of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church. Frank Stone, president, presided and 71 attended.

It was announced that 13 shut-in members will be remembered at Christmas with baskets of goodies.

The group plans a bus trip to Washington in the spring.

The Rev. John Stults, pastor of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church, a guest, gave the devotional talk on the "Coming of Christ."

Christmas crafts made by the members are on display at the former Morton's Jewelry Store on Market St.

A Christmas social will feature Thursday's meeting.

West Firemen's Officers Named

New officers were elected at a meeting of the Liverpool Township West volunteer fire department Wednesday night at the LaCroft station.

Milton Kountz was returned as president and as a three-year trustee. He also was elected captain.

Others named were Jack Clutter, vice president; Fred Fryman, secretary; Chalmers Gifford, treasurer, and Andy Hester, Gifford, Alfred Copestick and John Sell, lieutenants.

Fryman was re-elected to the firemen's dependents' board. The installation will be Jan. 8. Sixteen attended. The department has made one run this month.

Koppers Expects Equal Earnings

Koppers Co., Inc., expects 1963 earnings to at least equal and probably exceed the $2.87 a share in 1962, despite a drop in sales of around $10,000,000, Fletcher L. Byrom, president, and Fred C. Foy, chairman, announced at Pittsburgh.

The 1962 share earnings are exclusive of a 34 cent a share special capital gain from the sale of Thomas Flexible Coupling Co.

Byrom estimated 1963 sales in the area of $290,000,000.

Byrom said the backlog of orders at the end of November rose to nearly $120 million from about $98 million a year ago. At the end of 1962, the backlog was $123 million.

Awarded $85,000

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Frank J. Capers Jr. of Adena, Ohio, has been awarded $85,000 for injuries he said he received while working on a Nickel Plate Railroad bridge near Adena.

Repairs End, Tank Filled

Wellsville's million-gallon water storage tank is being filled after having been repaired and painted.

The tank should be completely filled by today, according to Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare.

The water was turned into the tank Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. The process is slow as only part of the water can be diverted into the tank, so the remainder can be used to service the community.

The entire interior of the tank was coated with a wax base paint and the exterior also was painted.

Baldasare said the base bid was $5,570 for the cleaning and painting. Very little welding was required. This came to an additional $253, which was much less than anticipated.

The work was done by the K. Kessler Co. of Fremont.

The tank was in much better condition than originally believed. The painting and coating of the interior was completed last week, but the refilling was delayed for a week to give the paint time to dry properly.

'Holiday In Harmony'

ELHS Choral Groups To Give Musical Sunday

The choral organizations, including the Melodettes shown here in their new attire, and orchestra of East Liverpool High School will present the Christmas musical, "Holiday In Harmony," Sunday at 3 p. m. at Westgate Auditorium.

Over 300 students will participate. The concert is free. The Melodettes' costume are royal blue satin with round necklines, bell-shaped skirts and three-quarter-length sleeves.

Directors of the four-part program are Miss Arletta M. Helfrich and Vincent L. Malola.

Participating groups, in addition to the orchestra and Melodettes, include Girls, Sophomore and Concert Choirs and Madrigals.

A feature of Part IV will be "The Song of Christmas" (Ringwald), pertaining to the story of the Nativity, which will be told in Christmas song, carols and Biblical verses.

This part of the program will include a sextet number, "We Three Kings of Orient Are," by Rick Channels, Don Purinton, Bill Hill, Bob Smurthwaite, Keith Hall and Bob Burkhardt; solo, "Companions, All Sing Loudly," by Paula Whealdon; and "Joseph Dear, O Joseph Mine," with Pat Brennan, soprano, and Keith Carver, tenor.

The orchestra will begin the program with Part I, presenting "Orchestral Prelude" and "Christmas Festival" (Anderson).

Part II will include "Silver Bells" (Evans), by the combined choirs; "The Song of Christmas" (Torme), Girls Choir; "Masters In This Hall" and "Do You Hear What I Hear" (traditional-arr. Simeone), Sophomore Choir.

"White Christmas" (Berlin), choirs and audience; "Pine Cones and Holly Berries" (Wilson), combined choirs; "Winter Wonderland" (Bernard), Madrigals; "I Wonder As I Wander" (Niles), and "Christmas Eve" (Hageman), Melodettes, and "The Carol of the Drum" (Davis), orchestra.

Part III will consist of "Sing Gloria" (Davis), by the Sing-a-Longers; "Jesu Bambino" (Yon), Madrigals; "A mahl and the Night Visitors" (Menotti), by the Shepherds Chorus; "Gloria In Excelsis Deo" (arr. Hoggard), Concert Choir with Elaine Garver, soprano soloist, and the professional, "O Come All Ye Faithful," combined Sophomore and Concert Choirs.

The audience will join in singing "The Hallelujah" chorus from "The Messiah," along with the combined choirs.

A tableaux will follow, under the direction of Keith Langdon, with Barbara Hall as narrator. Members will include Charles Taylor, Marion Lockhart, Larry Williams, Jim Rose, Mike Vohar, Ron Allison, Joe Anthony, Keith Baumgarner and Alice Anderson.

Accompanists will consist of Spore, and Barbara Hall, Concert Choir; Valerie Wolfe, Sophomore Choir, and Marianne Sidel, Girls Choir.

The Concert Choir will also present a performance of "Amahl and the Night Visitors" Thursday at 8 p. m. in the Westgate Auditorium. No admission will be charged.

Motorist Gets Jail Sentence

An East End man whose auto struck a pedestrian Tuesday night on Virginia Ave. was given a fine and a jail term when he pleaded guilty today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Benjamin Smith, 53½ Mulberry St., was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to five days in jail. His operator's permit also was suspended for 90 days.

Smith was accused of striking Edward Prentice, 65, of 1211 Erie St., who was walking across Virginia Ave. near Mulberry St. His case had been continued from Wednesday.

"You're lucky you are not facing me on a manslaughter charge," the judge told Smith. "Anyone who drives a car while under the influence is a potential killer."

Ralph E. Lockhart, 38, of Wyoming Ave., Glenmoor, forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of crashing a traffic signal at the junction of Dresden Ave. and the Freeway.

Patrolmen Karl Samples and Paul Blevins reported they observed Lockhart crash the signal at 11:35 p. m. yesterday and then pursued him out old Route 30 "at a high rate of speed" before halting him.

Benefit Show Set For Hookstown

Plans for a hillbilly show were furthered at a meeting of the Hookstown volunteer fire department Thursday night at the fire station.

The show sponsored by the firemen will be presented Jan. 22 at the South Side High School auditorium.

Alvin Torrence, vice president, presided. Lunch was served by Willis Swearingen.

Next meeting is Dec. 27 instead of Dec. 26 as originally scheduled.

Maj. Edna F. Hall of Ft. Knox, Ky., is visiting her brother, Leonard Hall, and other relatives. Maj. Hall and Mrs. Glenn Mason have concluded a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Karaba and family of Park Forest, Ill.

Judge's Ruling Due On Merger Plan Suits

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—U. S. District Court Judge Carl A. Weinman planned to rule today on two lawsuits filed by dissident stockholders trying to halt a proposed merger of Dubs Chemicals, Inc., of Cincinnati, and W. R. Grace & Co. of New York.

Also due was a ruling on whether a shareholder's meeting scheduled for Monday to decide the merger issue will be held. Groups opposing the merger had tried for postponement or cancellation of the meeting, contending it and another meeting scheduled in January to vote on dissolving the company would hurt stockholders' voting rights.

Newell Auto Agency Files Incorporation

Articles of incorporation have been filed in the Hancock County Courthouse by Newell Central Service, Inc., which has been established to buy and sell vehicles and act as a service and storage garage at 400 Washington St.

The incorporators are Genevieve Mangano, Oral McGown and Martha Bennett.

The corporation was authorized capital stock of $200,000, or stock and 1,000 shares of common stock, both at $100 each. It will commence business with $1,000 in capital stock, the records show.

Irondale Methodist Church Circles Hold Yule Program

A Christmas program was presented when the Margaret Poole Circle entertained the Mary Moon Circle Wednesday night in the social rooms of the Irondale Methodist Church.

Mrs. Mary Workman was leader. Mrs. Joyce Cline read

Scripture from 2 Luke: 8-23. Others taking part in the playlet, "If I Had Been In Bethlehem," were Mrs. June Clark, Mrs. Vivian Woodward, Mrs. Alta Nicholson, Mrs. Margaretta Rowley, Mrs. Jane Tolson and Mrs. Ruth Krueger.

There was group singing and a gift exchange. A gift was sent Mrs. Margaret Poole. Mrs. Mary Workman sang "Christmas," and Mrs. Sally Workman led prayer.

Tables were decorated with lighted candles, ornaments and pine. Lunch was served 30. Next meeting is a covered dish Jan. 14 at 7:30 p. m. with Mrs. Bernice Slusher.

The children's party for youngsters of church members will be held Monday night at 6:30 in the social rooms. Santa Claus will distribute gifts, which are to be brought by parents. Refreshments will be served by the Margaret Poole Circle.

Mrs. Pearl Tice is visiting a son and daughter - in - law in Kokomo, Ind.

The Presbyterian Church will present a Christmas cantata Dec. 22 at 7:30 p. m. at the church. "Chimes of the Holy Night" will feature solos and duets by choir members. Slides will be screened during the selections.

Women's Club Holds Summitville Yule Fete

SUMMITVILLE — Sixteen attended a Christmas meeting of the Women's Civic Club Thursday night with Mrs. Don McCord.

A gift exchange was held and carols were sung. Letters of thanks were received from the Welfare Department and the organization restoring Gaston's Mills for contributions.

The lunch committee included Mrs. McCord, Mrs. Dominick Sabatino, Mrs. Paul Karaffa and Mrs. Raymond DeSelle. Green, red and white holiday decorations were used, with a birthday cake centering the table. The group will meet Jan. 9 with Mrs. Earl Rogers.

Stock Dealer Fined

LISBON — John Bogdan of R. D. was fined $50 and costs Thursday by County Judge James L. MacDonald for dealing in livestock without a license. Thirty-five dollars of the fine was suspended providing he gets a license. He was cited by the State Department of Agriculture.

Gov. Rhodes Refuses Clemency For Convict

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes, going along with a Pardon and Parole Commission recommendation, has refused clemency for William Olney 24, of Columbus, who was serving a life term in Ohio Penitentiary. Rhodes declined Thursday to reduce Olney's second-degree murder conviction to manslaughter so he might be paroled.

Olney was one of four youths convicted in the New Year's Eve 1959 death of Mrs. A. Anthony, 17, of Columbus, who was allegedly raped, then put out of a car without clothing in frigid weather.

Miss Georganne Race of W. 4th St., daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George A. Race, became the bride of Frank L. Gertz of New Philadelphia the afternoon of Nov. 24 at 2:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church of Columbiana, with the Rev. Harry Schiedemantle, pastor, officiating for the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother, Charles W. Race, of Chicago the bride wore a white brocade dress with matching jacket and white hat. She carried a cascade arrangement of gardenias.

Miss Gloria Naughton, maid of honor, was attired in a brocade dress of champagne color with brown accessories. Bronze and yellow chrysanthemums formed her bouquet.

Jack Clunk of Columbiana was best man.

A small reception followed at the Valley Golf Club. The newlyweds honeymooned in Niagara Falls and Canada.

The bride is an elementary teacher in the Columbiana schools and her husband is employed by the Ohio Highway Department.

Movies were screened at the Christmas party of Navy Mothers of America Club 197 Monday night at the YMCA.

Chief Boatwain's Mate Frank Brown screened "The John Glenn Story" and "Life in the Navy."

Mrs. Gladys Bishop, commander, conducted business with a report heard on assistance at the Brecksville Hospital. Monetary gifts will be sent to sons of members.

Refreshments were served at a buffet table decorated with poinsettias and Santa Claus figurines. Favors were ballpoint pens.

Mrs. Vada Blackhurst, Mrs. Ida Conkle and Mrs. Bishop, the committee in charge of arrangements, took care of the gift exchange. Mrs. Mary Dunn won a prize.

Guests were Mrs. Leona Swiger and Mrs. Helen Jones.

A "get-together" party will be held Jan. 13 at the Y when mothers of newly-inducted servicemen will be guests. Mrs. Dorothy Smith and Mrs. Mary Wines are chairmen.

Five tables were in play for the Duplicate Bridge Group Wednesday afternoon at the Country Club.

Winners were Mrs. William Christopher and Mrs. Harry Thiemecke, first; Mrs. Howard Crossley and Mrs. Don Schreckengost, second, and Mrs. Herbert Smith and Mrs. H.W.B. Spore, third.

Mrs. Thiemecke and Mrs. Christopher are co-chairmen for the annual Christmas luncheon at noon Wednesday. Cards will follow.

Mrs. Clyde Graham will present the program for the meeting of the WSCS of the Boyce Methodist Church Tuesday at the Boyce Auditorium.

The Hill Study Club will meet Tuesday with Mrs. Paul Tobin of Monticello Pl.

Mr., Mrs. Robert Passage Return From Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Robert George Passage have returned from a honeymoon and are residing at the Echo Dell Trailer Court, following their marriage the evening of Nov. 14 at 7 o'clock in the Wellsville Free Methodist Church.

The bride was Miss Linda Chenoweth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Newman of Newell, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Passage of West Point.

The Rev. W. M. Brown, pastor, officiated for the double ceremony before an altar background of ferns and candelabra. Miss Donna Chaney played a half-hour organ music. Mrs. Erma Myers sang "I Love You Truly," "Till the End of Time" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of satin fashioned with a fitted bodice, long sleeves and scalloped neckline. The bouffant skirt featured a bustle and ended in a chapel train.

A crown of pearls and crystals held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and forget-me-nots, centered with a white orchid. Her pearl necklace was a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Barbara Chenoweth, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a peacock blue satin sheath, designed with a fitted bodice and detachable overskirt.

The bridesmaids, dressed identically, were Mrs. Janet Kelly, sister of the bride, Miss Linda Passage, the bridegroom's sister, and Miss Alma Barrett. All the attendants wore matching cabbage rose headpieces with theater veils and carried Colonial bouquets of white and yellow mums.

Lou Ann Beadle, as flower girl, wore a yellow dress trimmed with white lace. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Donald Passage served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Anthony Passage and Lynn Passage, also brothers, and Albert Lesko. Scott Beadle was ring-bearer.

The mother of the bride wore a light green suit with darker accessories and corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother, a patient at Salem City Hospital, received a pink carnation corsage.

A reception for 150 followed at the West Point fire hall. The buffet table was centered with a four-tier cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple. Silver candelabra and other appointments completed the setting.

Aides were Mrs. Lucille Singer, Mrs. Marie Hays, Mrs. Bessie Thompson, Mrs. Olivia Plum and Mrs. Alberta Knox. Miss Ruth Passage, sister of the bridegroom, was at the guest register.

Guests were from Monaca, Wellsville, East Liverpool, Lisbon, Chester and Winona.

The bride is a 1961 graduate of Wellsville High School and is employed at the Pearl China Co.

Her husband was graduated from Beaver Local High School in 1961 and works for the G. W. Mining Co. of Lisbon.

Mrs. Jo Ann Fisher introduced the new study book, "Be What You Are." New circles were formed.

Group singing of carols was led by Mrs. Virginia Springer. Mrs. Jo Ann Fisher read Scripture from Luke and Mrs. Jackie Fisher offered prayer.

Vocal duets, "Neath the Starry Heaven" and "The Manger Carol," were sung by Mrs. Ronald Mason and Brenton Elkins. Mrs. Doris Thompson read a poem, "The Nativity."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ruth Dunn and members of the Naomi Ruth Circle. The buffet table was centered with a red and white tree, flanked by red tapers. Mrs. Maude Sheppard poured.

Next meeting is March 10 with the Esther Circle hostess unit and the Priscilla group to serve lunch.

New Cumberland Revives Custom Of Christmas Tree

NEW CUMBERLAND — The custom of erecting a community Christmas tree — abandoned 10 years ago — is being revived by the administration of Mayor Welty M. Vulgamore Jr.

The idea of using a lighted tree and decorations over the main intersection of the village was made by Mrs. J. P. Jones and accepted by Village Council. She is the first woman to serve on Council.

Mayor Vulgamore donated a tree, and will preside at tree-lighting ceremonies this afternoon at 5:30 at the site, at the bottom of the steps leading to the Courthouse.

When the mayor throws a switch lighting decoration on the tree, other lights hung over the main intersection nearby will also be turned on for the holidays.

The Rev. V. W. Powell will be in charge of a brief spiritual service before the mayor lights the decorations.

The community tree is New Cumberland's first since 1953. Volunteer firemen originally obtained a tree but abandoned the project.

The United Organization will sponsor a children's Christmas party featuring cartoons and treats the morning of Dec. 24 at the Manas Theater. Mrs.

Joseph Bara and Mrs. Rhea Jones are co-chairmen.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruise —

Dear Readers: Now is the time . . . to get the Christmas spirit because "IT" will soon be here. And though we know it rolls around every year, it always sneaks up on us sooner than we expect.

So . . . let's go buy a Christmas tree.

Here are some hints to remember this year before making that purchase (tried and true for 21 years by Heloise and family . . .).

First and foremost, look for a FRESH tree. If the branches are dead looking, don't buy it. This can be tested by running your hand up and down a branch and if the needles fall off . . . look out! It's old. After all, we do want the branches to last during the holidays, eh? Besides it could be a fire hazard.

When the family goes to pick out the tree look for a full one. Perfect trees cost more than imperfect ones. But remember, before you spend extra money for a perfect tree, only one side shows when it's set against the wall or in a corner.

The money we save may be used to buy more Christmas decorations . . . which can be used year after year after year.

Too, some people (know who that is?) buy these "odd" inexpensive trees which are misshapen . . . purposely. I think they are lovely and dignified.

THESE "VACANT" places in the tree may be "filled-up" by using a piece of ordinary green or black sewing thread from 12 to 20 inches long and threading it through the eye on your decoration, tying a knot, and hung from the branch above. These hanging decorations not only fill up that empty space but "lend" what decorators call "the professional touch!"

The ball or decoration will hang from 6 to 10 inches from the branch above the hollow space and is really "quite different." We have used this method each year since we lived in China.

It's another good idea (which I learned in the Orient, too) to put your tree in a pot of water as soon as you arrive home with it, (remember those trees have been cut weeks before) and take the garden hose and sprinkle the branches to water them down. The tree may either be propped up against the side of the house, against a fence or clothes line for this purpose.

Leave it outside overnight to drain and absorb the moisture . . . from the hosing, and the dew that will fall during the night. This will further rejuvenate the little bristles or needles.

Now comes the time to put the tree in its stand. We learned a good lesson a few years ago, take the tree stand along when you buy the tree! Ever get home and the trunk of the tree wouldn't fit the container? Ooops. . .

MOST CHRISTMAS tree salesmen will put a tree in your container or at least make sure it fits the one you bring. And if they won't . . . drive another few blocks and find a sweet, friendly salesman.

CAUTION: Before applying last year's Christmas tree lights, (or even this year's, for that matter) test 'em!

We don't want to start a fire. I suggest you find one good string of lights, lay them out on the floor, screw all the good bulbs in and then wiggle the wires a few times to see if any light goes out or you have a short. If you find one, discard it. Might just save a life. Hundreds of homes burn each year from Christmas tree faulty wiring.

CAUTION NUMBER TWO: If you use any synthetic sprays, (I find it best to spray the trees first before putting on any decorations) put newspapers or soiled sheets over all your drapes, coffee tables, venetian blinds (all you have to do is fold a piece of newspaper and hang it through a slot on your blind) your rug, the end of the sofa, etc. . .

Far better to pick up a few papers after the tree is decorated than to spend hours afterwards cleaning up snow, needles from the tree and dust on your precious furniture later.

Let me caution you on one thing. Be very CAREFUL when you bring in mistletoe and red berries . . . they are dynamite if one should fall on your rug and somebody steps on it (I learned the hard way). Watch the berries, gals. Prevention is worth two hours of work and a ruined rug the next day.

Gather the family together and let the entire family decorate the tree. The kiddies may hang a few decorations in the wrong place but mother can always rearrange them the next day (they will never know it).

And don't forget to keep water in your container. A mixture of sugar and water is good if you can't afford commercial products.

And Happy Tree Decorating. HELOISE.

Health Board Sees Social Disease Rise

An increase in venereal disease, especially the incidence rate among younger people, in the Upper Ohio Valley was discussed by the Board of Health at its meeting Thursday night at City Hall.

No specific action, however, was taken.

The board was scheduled to meet next Thursday but advanced the meeting because of the proximity of Christmas.

A federal law transferring control of water pollution from one federal agency to another also was discussed briefly, but action was deferred until the board can learn more details.

It was notified by the County Health Board that drugs for the treatment of tuberculosis are available without charge to all county physicians from the Tuberculosis Clinic headed by Dr. F. G. Kravac at Lisbon.

Mrs. Luella Bevan, registrar of vital statistics, reported 94 births — 45 males and 49 females — in the period from Nov. 21 to Dec. 12. There were 36 deaths — 21 men, 12 women and 3 children in the same period, she reported.

Septimus Cook, health commissioner, reported he made 96 inspections since the last meeting and Miss Selma Ladzinski, public health nurse, listed 139 visits.

All members but C. Frank Dales attended. Dr. J. Keith Rugh, chairman, presided. This was the final meeting for James Grafton, who was appointed earlier this year to fill the unexpired term of E. G. Liebschner, resigned.

Judges Find Woman Guilty Of Murder

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Susan Jane Creech had lived in Ohio only a few hours when she was arrested in the murder of her common-law husband. She may spend the rest of her days in Ohio—in prison.

A three-judge panel found the 21-year-old former Fort Wayne, Ind., woman guilty of second-degree murder after 1½ hours' deliberation Thursday. She had been charged with first-degree murder in the shooting death of Robert Lee Grimes, 22, at about the time they were completing unpacking from a move to Convoys, west of here, from Fort Wayne.

Children Due Treats

HAMMONDSVILLE—The annual children's Christmas party of American Legion Post 742 will be held Dec. 20 at 7 p. m. at the post home. Santa Claus will present gifts. Charles Oliver, commander, and Mrs. Mary Hooper, president of the auxiliary, will be in charge.

"Take thou also unto thee principal spices, of pure myrrh 500 shekels, and of sweet cinnamon half so much, even 250 shekels, and of sweet calamus 250 shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary, and of olive oil an hin; and thou shalt make it an holy ointment, an ointment compounded after the art of the apothecary."

This reference to the ancient and honored profession of Pharmacy is in the Book of Exodus. Today—as in biblical times—the Apothecary is entrusted with the compounding and dispensing of medicines—and into every prescription we fill go the fullest measures of professional skill and integrity handed down through 4,000 years of Pharmacy and its service to mankind.

Folding Chair Bid Accepted At Crestview

MIDDLETON — Purchase of 72 folding chairs for the Crestview High School at a cost of $2.92 each was authorized by the Fairfield - Waterford Board of Education Thursday night.

The chairs will be obtained from the Denny Supply Co. of Mansfield. The board also purchased six additional drawing tables for the mechanical drawing room at the high school.

Application was made for Title Three aid for purchase of space maps. The board also approved participation in a proposal of a firm to erect bus shelters, which will be used for advertising.

Membership in the Ohio School Boards Association was renewed.

The board adopted a formal policy of not permitting any types of bingo, lotteries or other games of chance of any type in school buildings of the district.

Joseph Driscoll, executive head, said the action was made to clearly define policy where there had been none.

Two recently elected members attended — Mrs. Andrew Bretz and Glenn Seachrist.

The board will reorganize at the meeting Jan. 9.

Beaver's United Funds Allocated

HARRY C. Metzger, chairman of the Beaver County United Fund's admissions and allocations committee, said $745,345 have been allocated to 27 countywide and 16 local area agencies affiliated with the United Fund. The allocations represent 95 per cent of their requested amount.

The amount represents a 6 per cent increase over 1963, and 93.6 per cent of the total proceeds from the past campaign. He pointed out this includes a reserve of $30,000 to guarantee allocation payments in the event of losses in pledge collections.

The United Fund campaign and administrative costs totaling 7.4 per cent of the campaign results remains one of the lowest in the nation, while the actual 1963 campaign expenditures total $20,000 or 2.4 per cent of the results, he said. The anticipated 1964 year-round administrative budget was set at $37,685 or 5 per cent of the campaign result. A total of $823,781 or 102.5 percent of the goal, was collected this year.

Roush New Head Of Oriental Band

William Roush was elected president of the East Liverpool Oriental Band at a business meeting Wednesday night at the Casting Club.

He will succeed William Palmer.

Other officers elected were Al Ferguson, vice president; Ed Monier, treasurer, and Fred Stevens, secretary.

Roush appointed his committees for the next year. Plans also were made to charter a bus to attend the Jan. 20 installation of Clarke Joy of Cleveland, a member of the band, as potentate of the Al Koran Temple in Cleveland. Lunch was served.

School To Get Land

CHICAGO (AP) — The Willoughby - Eastlake City School District in Ohio will get 20½ acres of a dismantled Cleveland area Nike missile site, the General Services Administration reports. The property includes three underground missile storage structures and other facilities.

Road Response Rejected

Newell Civic Council Returns 4 Of Officers

Mrs. Sadye Nally, president, and three other officers were re-elected to one-year terms at a Christmas coverdish dinner meeting of the Newell Civic Council Thursday night in the American Legion home.

Mrs. Nally, a resident of Congo, has been employed in the diningroom of the clubhouse at Waterford Park race track for six years.

Others returned were Miss Betty Buben, secretary; Miss Martha Troop, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Gertrude Stephens, treasurer.

Arnie Durham, postmaster, was elected vice president to succeed Arch Coen, who resigned.

The council "did not approve" of a written answer from Burl Sawyers, head of the State Road Commission, who was sent petitions asking that the speed limits through the community be reduced. The maximum speed limit was increased in the spring.

Plans were made to send another letter to Sawyers in January with Miss Callie Tapis, when she goes to Charleston for the session of the House of Delegates. Sawyers advised the group in the letter that he has the authority to change speed limits at his discretion.

In other business, the council approved a plan to share the cost of Christmas treats with three other organizations to be given at the annual Christmas parade Wednesday. A donation of $12 was approved for the North Hancock County Retarded Children's Council.

Members voted to amend the constitution and bylaws in order to designate the original members as "charter members." The committee to amend the constitution includes Miss Buben, Mrs. Ann Cawthon, Mrs. Ruth Sprouse, Mrs. Louise Staley and Miss Troop.

A coverdish dinner was served with Miss Troop and Mrs. Cawthon as chairmen. The tables were decorated in a holiday theme.

Next meeting is in March.

Woman Hurt In Street Fall

A Chester woman hurt in a fall and an industry boy injured sled riding were among seven area residents treated at City Hospital after Thursday mishaps.

Mrs. Ollie Hartill of 3rd St., Chester, suffered a fracture of the right ankle in a fall on 3rd St.

John Flasco, 11, son of John Flasco of Industry R. D. 1, received a sprain of the right wrist while sledding.

William Kozel, 26, of M. C. Route 22 suffered a laceration of the right index finger at an automatic laundry.

In a fall onto a stool, Susan Sayre, 1, daughter of Benny Sayre, 1055 Township Line Rd., Wellsville, received a cut of the chin.

John Ferlino, 20 - month-old son of Vincent Ferlino, 2041 Michigan Ave., was treated for a cut of the head received in a fall against a television set.

Nick Bloor, 12, son of Howard Bloor of Lisbon St., was treated for an injury to the little finger of the right hand.

Diane Null, 14, daughter of Lester Null, 431 Watterson Ave., was transferred to Children's Hospital at Pittsburgh after treatment for a fractured left hip.

Nebo Grange Donates To 2 Health Agencies

LISBON — The Mt. Nebo Grange Wednesday night donated $5 for a Christmas Health Bond and $5 to the Cerebral Palsy Association fund drive at its meeting in the Grange Hall attended by 26 with Carl Bailey, master, presiding.

Mrs. Harold Sebrell, lecturer, presented the program on "Christmas Through a Window."

"Christmas Story" was given by Mrs. Clifford Aiken, and there was group singing with tabloid scenes by Jeffrey Bailey, Cindy Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morlan.

Next meeting is Jan. 8 at 8 p.m. at the hall.

2 Hancock Attorneys Get State Bar Posts

Two Hancock County attorneys have been named to committees of the West Virginia State Bar Association by George B. Bailey of Wheeling, president.

Atty. William E. Conklin of Chester was named to the citizenship committee, and Atty. Donald R. Donell of Weirton to the civil rules committee. Atty. Donell is assistant county prosecutor.

Two from Brooke County were also named. Clarence D. Bell, Wellsburg attorney, is chairman of the 1st District grievances committee, and Atty. J. Clarence Spitznogle of Follansbee is on the committee.

Driver Gets Continuance

A hearing for a city woman charged with a traffic violation was continued for a week by County Judge Herbert Arfman who fined five other district motorists Thursday at East Palestine.

A continuance was granted Abbie Z. Harris, 3230 Curry St., charged with passing at an intersection.

Fined $15 and costs were Doris A. Moore of Lisbon R. D. 3, speeding; Willard E. Hill, 214 E. Park Ave., East Palestine, failure to stop at an intersection; Jack Knight of East Palestine R. D. 1, failure to obey a traffic signal.

Gerald A. Heaton of New Waterford R. D. 1, pulling a trailer without taillights, and Harry Crowl Jr. of East Palestine R. D. 1, left of center.

About 45 attended a safety film screened at the courtroom for violators.

2,000 Tour Crucible Facilities In Midland

Nearly 2,000 persons, including flat rolled products department employees and their wives or guests, toured the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. on four nights, concluding Wednesday.

Tours were held Tuesday and Wednesday last week and Tuesday and Wednesday this week.

Refreshments were served at the warehouse where visitors were greeted by Santa Claus. Tours for other departments are being planned.

Court Docket Opening Seen As Milestone

Marking another milestone, Municipal Court has closed Journal 15 and opened Journal 16, indicating approximately 22,500 civil cases have been disposed of since the court was established 37 years ago.

The journals contain 500 pages each. Journal 15, closed when the last entry was made on the last page, had been in use since July 6, 1961. Its pages run from 7,001 to 7,500.

The new journal, in which only one entry has been placed to date, has pages running from 7,501 to 8,000.

As the journals average three entries per page and 7,500 pages have been filled, it indicates the court has handled 22,500 cases.

The first journal was opened in 1926 when the court was established with the late Jesse C. Hanley as judge. The court has had only five judges in its history.

The late Harry Brokaw succeeded Mr. Hanley. Then came the late Frank P. Grosshans, G. L. Brokaw and the incumbent, Samuel M. Chertoff. Harry Brokaw and G. L. Brokaw were brothers.

The court speaks through its journal. Whenever action is taken in a civil matter, an entry is made showing the case number, the names of the plaintiff and the defendant and the court's ruling. As the case progresses, subsequent entries are made.

About a half a dozen journals are kept in a metal cabinet in the court's office. The others are stored in the former bailiff's office adjoining the law library.

Luncheon sandwiches are delicious left open; spread bread (plain or toasted) with egg salad and top with shrimp that have been marinated in French dressing.

The contribution is made in conjunction with the Jefferson County Association, which turned over similar donations to the Guidance Center and Mental Health Clinic, Muscular Dystrophy campaign, Project 7 Beautification, Keep Christ In Christmas project and the Steubenville Citizens' Committee on Alcoholism.

Club Hears J. M. Wells Jr.

Kiwanis Given Summary Of Briefings On Defense

"We have dedicated military leaders; apparently we have some weapons, and, in my opinion, our money is being spent wisely," Joseph M. Wells Jr. told the Kiwanis Club Thursday afternoon in summarizing highlights of the Joint Civilian Orientation Conference he attended last summer.

Speaking at the Travelers Hotel, the Homer Laughlin China Co. executive said 76 men from throughout the country and representing a cross-section of various businesses and professions met at Newport News, Va., for the week-long conference which included visits to Langley Field, Va., to the carrier Forrestal at sea, the Marine Base at Camp Lejeune, N. C., the Infantry Base at Ft. Benning, Ga., and Eglin Air Base, Fla. before attending a briefing at the Pentagon in Washington.

In the visit to the Tactical Air Command headquarters at Langley Field, Wells said the group learned that when the Russians agreed to withdraw its missiles from Cuba that American planes already were in the air with orders to strafe and bomb Cuban beaches.

"I knew we came close to war, but I hadn't realized it was that close," Wells commented.

Most military officers he talked to were sorry the U. S. didn't go through with the attack, indicating they believe it will be necessary sooner or later, the vice president and secretary of the pottery firm said.

The group was flown to the Forrestal by helicopters and spent a day and night aboard witnessing various demonstrations, including anti-submarine work and day and night take-offs and landings.

At Camp Lejeune, the Marines staged a full-scale beach landing for the civilian observers. They also witnessed other demonstrations, including an airplane capable of vertical take-offs.

Rangers and paratroopers staged demonstrations at Ft. Benning where the civilians also were given an opportunity to fire weapons and make other inspections.

"The shooting impressed me everywhere we visited," Wells said.

At Eglin Field, Fla., the group inspected various aircraft and saw the testing of various equipment in the climatic laboratory, which, Wells said, was one of the most interesting demonstrations he had seen.

The group then was flown to Washington for a final conference with top Department of Defense officials.

Wells was introduced by J. Norman Nicely, program chairman.

Merrill Hall, president, announced a charter dinner for the newly-organized Beaver Local Key Club has been tentatively for Jan. 14. The club is being sponsored by the local Kiwanis.

Representatives of the East Liverpool and Beaver Local clubs and a delegation of five members from the Wellsville Kiwanis Club were guests.

Marion Horger, chairman, announced the annual Christmas party for 40 needy children will be held next Thursday at the hotel.

300 Attend Salineville PTA's Yule Program

SALINEVILLE — About 300 attended a Christmas meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Thursday night. Martin Adams, president, conducted a brief business.

Charles Temple, music supervisor, was in charge of the Christmas program, which included songs by students of the first eight grades.

The Christmas story was read by Diane Adams, the "Message of Christmas" by Nancy Fraser, and "White Christmas" by Candy Smith. The PTA will meet Jan. 9.

22 Attend Democrat Women's Yule Dinner

Twenty-two attended the East Liverpool Democratic Women's Club Christmas dinner and a gift exchange Thursday night at Deramo's Azure Room in Midland.

Mrs. Iris Applegate, president, presided. Mrs. Lillian Smith was in charge of reservations.

Next meeting is Jan. 9 at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex.

Council Acts On Midland's Traffic Snarl

Midland Council Thursday night took steps to alleviate traffic snarls on Midland Ave. — the borough's only main thoroughfare. The problem is compounded by the travel of 6,000 employees of the Crucible Steel Co. at shift changes.

Council decided to crack down on drivers who persistently clog the intersections, preventing traffic from merging into the main stream.

Warning signs were ordered erected along the streets and the secretary, Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, was instructed to write to Crucible officials, requesting that they post notices in the plant, explaining the action.

Councilman Lester Trainor said he recently timed travel from 12th to 6th Sts. during one of the rush periods and it took him 52 minutes.

Council also proposed a meeting with officials at Crucible to see if some other procedures can be established in an effort to ease the congestion that exists on each payday.

Councilman Joe D'Alesio reported on a recent meeting with Crucible officials on air pollution said recent statements by the firm indicate their intent to correct the problem.

"We are closer to solving this problem than we have ever been," he commented.

He said the meeting "was very fruitful," and that Crucible "is more aware of the problem than anytime in the past."

Councilman Steve Germusa reported that the Pennsylvania Road Department engineer advised him that the load limit on the Beaver Creek bridge carrying Route 68 traffic had been restored to 25,000 pounds. Council complained recently when the load limit was reduced.

Councilman Ray Presutti reported that the ice skating rink at the 1st St. playground had been completed and awaits colder weather for use.

In other action, the Cannon Funeral Home on Midland Ave. was granted permission to cut the curb and lower the sidewalk in front of an adjacent lot to be used for parking.

A parking meter must be removed and the borough engineer, R. E. Steebner, is to supervise the work on the sidewalk.

Next council meeting Dec. 26 was canceled, due to the holidays, and Jan. 6 was set for the reorganization session.

Officers' reports were accepted and bills were ordered paid. William Vinovich, president, presided.

Austintown Officials Get Car Theft Suspect

LISBON — Henry Lee Richard, 33, of Perrysburg, has been turned over to Austintown police authorities and is expected to be charged with auto larceny for the theft of salesman's car that was parked in front of a grocery store in Austintown.

Richards was arrested Tuesday two miles north of Lisbon on Route 164 by Deputy Sheriff James Gause after he tried to cash a check at a gas station in Columbiana, then fled when asked for his credentials.

He was carrying a 22-caliber revolver but no charges were filed in this county, Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan said.

Salineville Treat Set

SALINEVILLE — Santa Claus will distribute treats at the annual Christmas fete for youngsters by the volunteer fire department Dec. 21 at 3 p.m. at the fire station, Fred Wilson, president, said.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

Bill Cosby Successfully Plays The Loser

The prime asset of Bill Cosby may well be his mastery of the Uncertain Grim. It spreads slowly across his mug and then holds still for a few tentative seconds while his eyes flick to the left.

If the character he is playing is Noah and if the voice he is talking to is the Lord's, then that smile has just the right aw-come-on-what's-goin'-on-here uncertainty to it. The Noah routine is a walloper. And Bill Cosby's future looks okay from here.

Alan Gill

"YOU'VE SEEN the act on 'Tonight' and the Paar show, haven't you? ('Noah? It's the Lord, Noah.' 'Ri-ight! What do you want? I been good.' 'I want you to build an ark.' 'Ri-ight! What's an ark?' Etc.)

But if you haven't caught up with Bill Cosby yet, please note that he'll be showing up on 'Hootenanny' Dec. 21, then with Garry Moore Jan. 14 and again with Paar Feb. 7.

"I'm getting kind of tired of that 'Ri-ight,' he was telling me the other day.

"The only routines I ever really like are the new ones I'm working on. There's one I'm writing now about a kid with 'bad hair.' It's not long or scraggly or anything definite, it's just BAD hair. And the thing's about the shame and scorn he runs into everywhere.

"I'M LEARNING how to build routines like a pyramid now, out of little bits. Material's always been my problem. For awhile, there was Woody Allen with carloads of material and no stage presence, and me with presence. Together, we'd have been a monster, the all-American comic.

"But I've been making a conscious study of comedy, like Freud spending two hours analyzing why he spilled a glass of water, or a mechanic working on a car that won't start.

"When I'm watching another comic perform, it's like a doctor watching a doctor. Oh, I'm not so busy I can't laugh. Johnny Winters turns me inside out, and so does Flip Wilson.

"ONE THING I've found out is I've got to be a loser. I tell a brag joke, but I'm losin' all the way.

"Like I say I'm an 'intelligent gentleman.' Four guys jump me, pull me into an alley and beat me up and what do I do? I smile, just smile and then I walk away smiling because I'm 'intelligent.'"

Cosby is a Negro — trim, tall 26 and athletic-looking. He quit Temple University in June '62, after two years on the track and football teams, to take a job as clown-bartender in a patient at the TB Hospital at Philadelphia saloon called The Cellar Bar.

"It was kind of a Greenwich both at 7:30.

Village coffee house with booze," he says. "I remember I got impressed about that time with the Carl Reiner-Mel Brooks album, which was nice truthful comedy, not bum-bum-bim, bam-bam-bum-boom stuff.

"IT WAS LIKE the thing that pushed me. And I'd just sit there on the stage telling Reiner-Brooks jokes. Man I didn't know what I was doing. It was like the Down Home Players doin' 'Julius Caesar.'"

But then he got around to other material, like his bit on "The first Negro President." ("Everything is okay," Cosby's President is told: "Just a lot of 'For Sale' signs on the street.")

But his Negro-white routines, when they became the heartbeat of his act, never got any more abrasive than that; and anyway, "there's only one Dick Gregory," Cosby had said.

Last March, though Cosby always had touched on "colorless" material, it was decided that his success lay in a less controversial direction than Gregory's.

"All racial stuff is out," he told me, a bit sadly. "We're proving the other thing now—that it's possible to be just a funny guy."

HE GAVE himself a hushed fanfare.

"Ta-to-o-om!"

Are there any regrets?

"Oh, with me, it hurts a little, getting off things not as biting, not as hard."

As for the future, there is talk of an adventure TV series, with Cosby providing the comedy relief. Carl Reiner may be writing an opus for him.

And there are club dates, too. But Cosby's dream of glory isn't professional, it's personal: semi-retirement, a wife, children, friends, neighbors, a couple of "concerts" a year, a house in Sausalito, Calif., and time and money enough to teach.

"I'd like to work with kids," he said with a grin far from uncertain, "have fun with 'em."

West Point Mothers Hold Luncheon Event

WEST POINT — Nineteen attended the West Point Mothers Club coverdish luncheon meeting Wednesday at the school.

The group held a white elephant sale with Mrs. Annabelle White, president, in charge. Each mother was permitted to visit her children's room for half an hour.

The club discussed costumes for the children's Christmas operetta to be given Thursday night at 7:30 at the school.

This will replace the regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Mrs. Regina Bellamy was in charge of lunch. Cards were signed for Mrs. Velma Hern, a patient at the TB Hospital at Philadelphia saloon called The Cellar Bar.

Jan. 8 and the PTA Jan. 13.

It was kind of a Greenwich both at 7:30.

Memorization Can Prove Profitable

Yesterday we talked about the amazing ability of some children and adults to memorize and to recall faithfully at any time what they had seen, heard or learned by heart. Let us note how useful such ability is. Just for a taste, let's look at a wonderful it Dr. Garry Meyers is to be able to remember the names of people after meeting them for the first time.

How wonderful — and useful — for the salesman or politician to remember names. How interesting any person can be in a conversation who remembers nearly everything he has seen, heard or read. How useful to a teacher or student to remember facts and utterances read or heard and to remember who said or wrote them and where.

THE PUPIL LEARNING to spell does best when he memorizes the spelling of words with precision. Even in simple addition, subtraction or multiplication he needs to learn accurately by heart the basic number combinations if he is to gain in speed and efficiency.

As the student advances farther in mathematics he needs to memorize certain essential symbols and their meanings. As he studies from his textbooks in science, history, geography he needs to remember certain basic items. He hardly will get far in a foreign language without learning by heart words of this foreign vocabulary and the patterns and variations of declensions and conjugations.

As a rule, the pupil in the grades or student in high school or college won't remember such essential items by seeing, hearing or saying them just once. Many of them he will have to repeat over and over again, as he hears or sees them, in order to master them.

We teachers and parents guide the student in choosing the most essential things to learn by heart. We help make these things meaningful to him and then set the stage so he will store them in his memory.

LONG BEFORE the child enters school, let us encourage him to remember things of his everyday experiences and what we read to him. Let us encourage him as he often accurately recalls such. Why should we not stimulate, though not require, preschool children to try to remember rhymes and poems they have often heard and children in the grades to learn by heart short selections of verse and prose?

Let us also, by precept and example, encourage our children to remember persons' names and ever so many other useful items of everyday life. Of course we should not burden them with memorizing just for the sake of memorizing and of showing off to our friends. Let's practice at helping the child select all that's worth remembering, even for a lifetime.

The important thing is to pay strict attention to what is worth remembering with a purpose to remember it and to recall it often before it has escaped from our heads.

'Worst Drought Of Century,' Hydrologist's Records Show

The Ohio drought is the "worst of the Twentieth Century" and threatens to become the worst in recorded history, according to records of State Hydrologist Paul Kaser at the Department of Natural Resources in Columbus.

Kaser said November statistics show that the present drought has exceeded in severity a dry spell of 1953-54.

The last 24-month period in which there was less precipitation than during the 24 months ending Nov. 30 was the 24 months ending in October 1895.

"If the present drought continues another month or two, even this drought will be exceeded," the hydrologist reported.

Kaser said a "yellow alert" has been issued to all water supply agencies, cautioning them against the "distinct possibility" that the drought will continue.

Most cities, large or small, have no real worries, but the large inland communities that depend upon reservoir supplies saw their source dwindling daily. Many of these cities face a "serious" situation, Kaser said.

But the problem could be cured almost overnight with a heavy rain rebuilding reservoir supplies, he commented. A heavy downpour on March 4, 1963, ended a drought that had threatened many reservoir supplies.

He pointed out the flow of several rivers, including the Great Miami and the Scioto — were at or near record lows. But the flow in the Ohio continued "remarkably good," based on measurements made at Cincinnati, he said.

But if water had not been drawn off from flood storage reservoirs upstream, the flow would have been the lowest in 30 years, Kaser said.

Santa and the Haunted House

By LUCRICE BEALE

Synopsis: The children set out for Santa Land on ice skates. Tired and discouraged after skating all day, they suddenly crashed through thin ice and landed in the icy water.

CHAPTER 10

Jeremy couldn't struggle any longer. He was turning to ice. He knew if he pushed Sissy and Miss Jo away he would have a chance to save himself. But he couldn't let go of them, not even if it meant never getting to Santa Land to save Santa from eating the Trouble Cake.

He held on, too exhausted even to gasp anymore. He was about to go under for maybe the last time when Miss Jo screamed, "There's something coming! Look!"

Jeremy threw back his head one last time and saw — he wondered if it were a dream — a whole army of little creatures racing across the ice toward them!

"They'll fall through!" he thought.

BUT THE host of Sprites—for that is what they were—skimmed over the thinnest ice right up to the hole itself. They threw ropes and Sissy and Miss Jo grabbed them and even Jeremy managed to get one in his frozen hands. In two seconds the children were dragged out of the water and carried safely to shore.

It was a family of Ice Sprites who had saved them. They were so tiny and so many and moved so fast there seemed like hundreds of them. They built a fire and took off the children's clothes and wrapped the children in blankets made of the insides of cocoons. They fed them cup after cup of warm butterfly milk.

Soon the children were fine again. Miss Jo, who was the first to recover, asked, "For goodness sake! Who are you?" "Ice Sprites," said the leader of the Sprites. He was the grandfather or maybe even the great-grandfather of all the other Sprites. "We live on the ice and skate all winter long. In the summer we grow wings and get real tiny and we skate right on top of the water."

"First," he said, "you must pass over the mountain."

"OH, I'VE seen you!" exclaimed Sissy. "I never could understand why you don't even get wet."

"That's because we have hardly any weight," said the Sprite. "But you are different, you know, and you should never skate on thin ice. It is lucky for you we felt the ice crack though we were miles and miles away. We thought a star had fallen on the river! Where on earth were you racing to, that you did not see the sign we had put on the ice to warn people?"

"We are going to Santa Land," said Miss Jo.

"Good heavens!" cried the Sprite. And all his descendants threw up their hands in astonishment. "Santa Land is mountains and oceans away!"

Jeremy looked gloomy. "But we've got to get there!"

"Why, Can't you wait for Christmas?"

"It's not that," said Jeremy. Then he told how they had seen Nog making a Trouble Cake filled with spider legs and worries and cobra eggs and all kinds of pains. And how Nog was planning to send the cake to Santa so Santa would eat it, and die and there wouldn't be any more Christmas.

"So you see," said Jeremy, "we've just got to get to Santa Land to warn Santa in time."

THE ICE Sprites made sounds of alarm. They shook their heads and clustered in groups and whispered behind their hands.

Then the grandfather Sprite said, "We'll help you get to Santa Land. The way is long but you'll have help all along the way. There is not one creature in Fairyland who does not hate the name of Nog. All of us will speed you on for you are right — you must get to Santa Land!"

Then he pointed to a nearby mountain that reached as high as the lowest star in the sky.

"First," he said, "you must pass over the mountain."

The children signed and their spirits fell. "How can we do that?" asked Jeremy.

"You'll soon see," smiled the grandfather Sprite and he called all the Ice Sprites to his side.

Tomorrow: Zooming over the Mountain

Flasco's Report Shows $31 Spent On Council Race

James V. Flasco spent $31.50 on an unsuccessful Democratic bid for a Council - at - large seat at the Nov. 5 general election, according to his sworn statement of campaign receipts and expenses on file today with the County Election Board.

Two more district candidates have filed the reports with the board.

William O. Grimm, Republican, defeated in a race for the First Ward Council seat, said he had no expenses.

Tom W. Hunter, Democratic candidate for Wellsville city auditor, listed expenses of $58.44.

Dec. 20 at 4 p.m. is the deadline for the reports. They are required under the so-called "Corrupt Practices Act," which puts a ceiling on campaign spending.

The reports are required of all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and from individuals or committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

2 Drivers Penalized

LISBON — Lester O. Wick-ersham, 30, of Kensington R.D. received a $5 suspended fine for ignoring a stop sign at a hearing before County Judge James L. MacDonald Thursday and James Davis Jr., 43, of R. D. 5 forfeited a $15 appearance bond for insufficient lights on a vehicle in another State Highway Patrol case.

Hammondsville Family Goes East

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Heiney and family of Hammondsville have moved to Cheverly, Md. He is employed with the Washington Police Department.

The Missionary Society of the Grants Hill United Presbyterian Church was to meet today with Mrs. Mary Ellen Randolph of Chestnut Grove.

"Open house" was held Sunday by relatives of Mrs. Eva Cronin, who observed her 79th birthday anniversary. Lunch was served and she was presented two cakes.

Rodney Jenkins, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood Jenkins, has returned after observation in Youngstown South Side Hospital since Nov. 26.

Mark Sprouse, 8 - months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Sprouse, remains a patient in City Hospital.

Mrs. James Parson is a patient in City Hospital.

6th Of Gang Nabbed

CLEVELAND (AP) — The sixth member of a gang charged with forging and embezzling more than $30,000 in federal income tax refund checks was arrested Thursday. He was identified by police as Carlton M. Nottage, 29. Five other members of the gang were arrested Wednesday and were out on bail Thursday night.

Brown In Lorain To See Progress In Voting Probe

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown was in Lorain today to view progress in a probe of alleged voting irregularities Nov. 5 in the city's 5th Ward.

He planned to confer with six investigators on his staff who have been directing the probe and with officials of the Lorain County Election Board.

On an earlier visit here Dec. 4, Brown said evidence uncovered at that point warranted a full-scale investigation.

Before coming here Thursday night, Brown sent copies of the transcript of a hearing he conducted in Ironton Dec. 3 to Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe and Lawrence County Prosecutor Dennis J. Callahan.

Brown said the Lawrence County probe indicated vote buying and other irregularities in the November balloting.

Brown told Saxbe that Callahan indicated he would welcome help from the attorney general in vote fraud prosecutions.

Former catcher and minor league manager Ray Mueller now scouts for the Cleveland Indians.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm going with a very nice fellow who will be 18 this spring. Andy is an excellent student, has high principles and is respected at school.

The trouble is, I never know for sure if we are going to a dance, a football game, or anywhere because Andy always is afraid he's coming down with the flu, a cold or a headache. He carries a thermometer in his wallet and some nights he takes his temperature every hour on the hour.

We have missed four big events since October because he was sure he "felt something coming on." The next day he feels fine. I've known Andy since grade school and he never has been really sick. In fact, he's the healthiest kid in the bunch.

Do you think he will outgrow this, Ann? My mother says he'll probably get worse. What about it? — M. C. S.

Dear M. C. S.: A teen-ager who is preoccupied with fears of illness, and repeatedly cancels plans, has strudel in his noodle. Your mother is right. This boy needs help — and now — or probably he will get worse.

P. S.: I have a hunch that Andy and some nice nurse will make a lovely couple.

he has a three - minute limit before you change the subject. Then do it.

Perfect Advice

Dear Ann: Your advice to the 16-year-old pregnant girl was perfect. I wish I had known about you seven years ago when I was in the same spot.

The boy I was going with was 19 and in college. Tom was my first and only sweetheart. He swore he loved me madly but everything changed when I told him I was going to have a baby.

He tried to lie out of it by suggesting that I had other boy friends and maybe one of them was the father. I knew right then and there that Tom was no good. But my mother insisted he wasn't going to "get away with it." She applied such terrific pressure on Tom that he agreed to marry me.

Not a day goes by but what Tom doesn't remind me that I trapped him. He lies, drinks and runs around. He's no father and no husband. I have a part-time job now with one goal in mind—to save up money for a divorce.

So please, Ann, keep telling young girls that a forced marriage is absolutely worthless. The girl is better off to go it alone as you suggested. I'm only sorry I didn't do it that way. — SMARTER NOW.

Dear Smarter: A letter from a battle - scarred veteran always tells the story best. Thank you for writing — and good luck.

Confidentially

AM I AN "ALKIE"? If on two drinks you see double and feel single and then you "lose count"—you well may be a problem drinker.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

YWCA Figure Dies

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Grace C. Chisolm, 87, former administrator of the International Institute of the YWCA, died Thursday. She also had worked as a librarian in Cleveland, Lorain and Lima.

Choir Gives PTA Concert

The School Choir, under the direction of Miss Despina Gaglian, presented the program at a meeting of the 4th St. Parent - Teacher Association Thursday afternoon at the Midland school.

Mrs. Jack Haggerty, parliamentarian, presided in the absence of Mrs. Helen Barney, president.

Plans were made for the Christmas party for the pupils Dec. 20. Mrs. Jane Adkins will be in charge of treats and Mrs. Charles Deem, decorating the Christmas tree.

As a Christmas project, members are preparing Yuletide baskets for needy families of the area.

Mrs. Robert Allen, secretary, and Mrs. Robert Reighard, treasurer, reported. Devotions were led by Mrs. J. C. Ketterer, an instructor.

Next meeting is Jan. 9.

275 At Lincoln's Program Of PTA

About 275 parents and friends attended the Christmas program presented by the first three grades for the Lincoln Parent Teacher Association Tuesday night. Dr. Marvin Kinsey, president, presided.

Miss Eleanor Whitehill was director, assisted by Miss Eleanor Dudley, Mrs. Richard Wilson, Mrs. Esther Thomas, Mrs. Virginia Edwards, Miss Helen Hannahs and Mrs. June Dailey, teachers.

The first grade pupils presented a program entitled, "Christmas Songs for All Ages," second grade, "The Shoemaker and the Elves," and third grade, "The Happy Christmas."

The Rev. John Stilts, pastor of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church, gave devotions.

Mrs. Howard Claypool reported on the dancing classes, with 48 children registered. A party for the group will be held Saturday evening at the East Junior High School, with Mrs. Richard Crawford and Mrs. Earl Fitzgerald co-chairmen.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Reducing Fare Should Be Appealing

"One time you commented that married couples often grow to look alike, silhouette-wise. We sure have...it's awful the shape we are in. We both need to lose between 25 and 30 pounds."

"I try fixing low calorie fare, but sometimes I get the feeling of 'what's the use!'" Why Ida Jean Kain make food tempting when you are trying not to eat too much? I'm a good cook, but obviously my recipes are too fattening. Won't you give us some slimming tips? Please help us to get started on a reducing program," a homemaker pleads.

Delighted! But first, check in with your family doctor and tell him you are in earnest about getting down to a healthy weight. The start of a reducing program is an ideal time for a physical check-up. Plan to report to him at regular times. Just knowing you will be stepping on the doctor's scales a few weeks hence spurs you on.

NOW A CHALLENGE: Resolve to make a low calorie cooking your specialty. Plan delightful meals, devise ways to make non - fattening food appealing. Decide on the menus early in the day when you feel fresh and imaginative.

To keep nutrients up and calories at a slimming level, plan each meal on the protective foods, and shop from this list. To avoid impulse buying, do your shopping when you are not hungry.

In meal planning, put the emphasis on the main course... lean meat, or fish, or chicken, chicken livers, a mushroom omelet, or cottage cheese. A baked potato, a small one or half a large one, served with the meat course adds to the satiety value. Instead of a sour cream topping, try a rounded tablespoon of cottage cheese with chives. Avoid plain - Jane vegetable dishes — much too dull: Toasted slivered almonds add a piquancy to vegetables... and three whole almonds count only 20 calories. To toast, simply place them under the broiler. Experiment with herbs... nutmeg on squash and on spinach, rosemary on summer squash, basil with tomatoes, a touch of ginger with carrots. Always use the light touch with herbs.

WITH A FISH MEAL, serve hard cooked egg slices on the green salad. Or have celery stuffed with cottage cheese, add a touch of paprika.

At the beginning of a slimming program, don't skip dessert. Plan something delightful...fresh fruit with a small wedge of cheese. Suggestions: Slices of crisp, cold apple, or mellow pear, pineapple spears, melon slices. Take your choice. Broiled grapefruit, with non - nutritive sweetener, is delicious. Cheese-cake made with cottage cheese is an unexpected treat.

If you eat at home, serve after-dinner coffee in the living room. It's a wonderful way to break the habit of overeating. Send self - addressed, stamped, long envelope for Eat To Build Leanness, addressing request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Midland Forced Into Overtime, Nips N. Brighton, 73-70

By ANDY NUZZO
Pre-season ratings figured the New Brighton Lions to give the Midland Leopards their best battle for the Section 8 crown. Everything ran true to form when the two schools clashed last night and Midland was forced to go into overtime to defeat the Lions by a 73-70 score before a capacity throng at the losers' Dawes Gym.

RON BROWN and Sim Hill sparked the Leopard triumph, scoring 58 of the total Midland points.

Brown poured 35 points through the hoop and Hill swished 23 as the Leopards of Hank Kuzma successfully opened the defense of their Section 8 title.

The loss was the first in section play for Bill Edwards' Lion cagers, who opened league play with a 60-55 win at Monaca last Tuesday.

THE OUTCOME of last night's tense struggle, that had nearly all of the spectators on their feet the final three minutes of the contest, was not decided until Brown converted both ends of a one-and-one foul situation with four seconds left to give Midland its final margin of victory.

The lead changed hands nine times in the hectic struggle and the contest was deadlocked on 15 different occasions.

PERSONAL fouls played a key role in deciding the outcome of the contest.

The Leopards lost their play-making guard, junior Norman Vanlier, via the personal foul route, with 3:23 left in the fourth quarter. Vanlier rode the bench the majority of the game because of his personal foul trouble.

Three New Brighton starters were sidelined with five personal fouls. The Lions outstanding 6-foot junior center, John Beane departed with less than 30 seconds remaining in the final quarter and the score tied at 66-66.

THIS LOSS hurt New Brighton, not only because Beane was one of their chief scoring threats, but he had also been doing a fine job on the boards.

Junior John Farthing committed his fifth personal at the outset of the overtime period. Senior Jim Oldenburg, who had kept the Lions in the game with his fine outside shooting and accurate eye at the foul line, left with 28 seconds remaining and his team behind, 71-68.

THE LIONS held the largest point spread of the game when they forged into the lead by a 42-35 count in the first three minutes of the second half.

But Brown meshed a pair of field goals and a free throw and Hill added another two pointer to pull Midland even at 44-44, with 2:52 left in the third period.

A LITTLE over a minute remained when Hill swished a jumper from the side to give the Leopards a 46-45 edge, the first time they were in front since the start of the second quarter.

Bob Messick quickly put New Brighton back in front, for the final time of the night, 50-45, by reeling off five straight markers.

Brown cranked a jump shot from close in just before the buzzer to slice the Lion lead to a single bucket entering the final eight minutes of play.

BROWN started the fourth quarter off with two rebound-layups and Vanlier stole a Lion pass at mid-court and banked a layup through the hoop to move Midland out to a 54-50 advantage.

New Brighton never regained the lead but managed to tie the Leopards four different times in the final quarter.

The last deadlock came with about 20 seconds left in the game. Messick sent a jumper from the key snapping through the nets to even the score at 68-68 and send the game into a three minute overtime.

All of the points scored in the overtime period came from the foul line.

SENIOR Bill Haggerty, who assumed the playmaking chores for Midland after Vanlier fouled out and did a fine job, swished a pair of charity throws and Hill added another to give the Leopards a 71-68 bulge.

Jim Lott's two foul tosses with nine seconds remaining closed the Leopard lead to a single point but Brown clinched the Midland win with his two crucial free throws.

Midland shot a torrid 50 per cent from the field, connecting on 27 of 54 attempts. New Brighton sank 21 of 61 attempts for 34 per cent.

THE LIONS used the foul line to stay close and even ahead of Midland. Both teams marched to the charity stripe 33 times, but New Brighton made good 28 of their tries while the Leopards could only sink 19.

Brown, a 6-3 junior, tallied his markers on 12 fielders and 11 of 18 free throws. Hill hit 10 field goals and three of six foul shots.

The duo also did the bulk of the Leopard rebounding. Hill, the 6-5 junior center who has been averaging close to 20 rebounds a game, pulled down 19 strays. Brown grabbed 14.

NEW BRIGHTON showed a more balanced attack, scoring-wise, than did Midland. Oldenburg, a 6-3 forward, swished five field goals and 14 of 15 free throws for 24 points.

Messick, a sharp - shooting 6-foot guard, followed Oldenburg with 17 markers. Beane added 13 and Jim Lott contributed 10.

In the preliminary contest, Stan Yukica's Midland JV squad trampled the New Brighton Reserves, 61-42. Rich House led the Leopards with 17 points. Brent Lake had 13 and Buddy Adkins, 10.

On Tuesday, Midland will open section play at home against the Beaver Bobcats.

New Athletic Director Due . . .

The East Liverpool Board of Education is expected to name a new athletic director at its meeting Monday night. Merrill Hall resigned as athletic director to become mayor of the city. At least five men have been mentioned for the job.

BUD BUCHER, the dean of Columbiana County coaches who has produced nothing but winners at Lisbon High, is improving slowly at South Side Hospital in Youngstown.

Bud was injured seriously in an auto accident last month, but has fought back strongly. He has had operations on his hip and jaw and is now in a cast from his waist down.

In case any fans would like to drop him a Christmas card, he is in Room 453 at South Side Hospital.

ED NELSON, the Wellsville product who led the Tigers to an upset over East Liverpool last year, poured in 20 points for the Marietta College jayvees Wednesday night in their victory.

Ed also has been seeing some varsity action and is on the 12-man traveling squad. Only a freshman, the basketball future looks bright for the former Tiger.

LARRY MCSWEGIN, who starred at Chester High before his graduation in 1960, has been named to the first offensive team in the Missouri College Athletic Conference.

Larry, a senior, played regular guard for Tarkio (Missouri) College this past season. Tarkio posted a 6-2 record.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter McSwegin of 617 6th St., Chester.

WHO IS the most valuable player in the United Football League? The answer is Ivan Tonic, the former Midland and Pitt standout.

Tonic was selected as the MVP by a vote of league coaches for his offensive and defensive play this season for the champion Wheeling Ironmen.

He was presented a beautiful trophy between halves of the UFL championship game last Sunday in Toledo.

Ivan is considered the finest defensive back in the league.

Shoes On Wrong Feet . . .

JIM HARRIS, Potter cage coach, gave the East Liverpool Rotary Club a laugh the other day when he told of one experience with a young basketball candidate.

A sophomore, bidding for a spot on the Potter squad, frowned as he tried out the basketball shoes issued by the coach.

"These shoes just don't fit right," he complained.

Harris gave a quick check and found the shoes were the right size - 11½ - but there were gaps along the upper soles where the fit should have been tight.

"He had both shoes on the wrong feet," Harris explained.

For Bowlers Only . . .

WE HOPE district bowlers don't get too envious when they read this:

This story comes from Sugarcreek, a community near New Philadelphia. Bill Weiss and the Swiss Hat Restaurant team moved near the top of the nation this season following a duel with a Wooster team in a sanctioned Traveling League match last week.

Weiss, 34-year-old assistant manager of the Sugarcreek Lanes, took individual honors as he bowled 24 consecutive strikes, including a perfect game in the string, and finished with an amazing 822 series.

With Weiss leading the way, the team fired a 3,553 series, with a 1,327 game coming in the middle of the set.

Winding up his first game with eight straight strikes, Weiss posted a 279 game. He followed with his 300 and added four more strikes in his final game before being stopped by the seven pin in the fifth frame. He finished with 243.

One of his teammates compiled a 717 series, while the others had series of 696, 661 and 657.

18 Games Will Keep Local Cagers Busy

All 16 district teams have gotten their feet wet in a new basketball season and most local squads will return to action this weekend with 18 contests scattered throughout the area.

Midland, which played last night, is the only local team idle tonight and Saturday.

Games in three different leagues spice up tonight's card.

East Liverpool is in a Big 8 encounter at Warren and the Potters have a 1-0 Conference mark after their victory over Alliance.

Tri - County action will be launched tonight with East Palestine at Minerva, the high scoring Columbiana Clippers invade Poland, Leetonia visits Louisville and Lisbon is favored to tackle Sebring at the County Seat.

The other league battle shows the improved Western Beaver five meeting Hopewell in a Section 8 clash.

Oak Glen will be trying hard to win its home opener tonight when Triadelphia moves into the Chester Junior High gym. Coach Bob Starkey's crew dropped their season's start to powerful Weirton this past Tuesday.

Beaver Local, after giving Wellsville a run for its money, will go after win No. 1 for its new coach John Pape tonight at North Lima.

United, meeting early success, shoots for its third straight victory tonight at home with a dangerous Crestview squad invading the Golden Eagles nest.

Palestine and Salem will host Parma Valley Forge to round out the schedule.

Eason's, McNutt's, Dawson's Win Little Potters Opener

Eason's, McNutt's and Dawson's stepped off to victories to open the Little Potters Sixth Grade League season Thursday night at the Broadway gym.

McNutt's smacked First National Bank, 21-13 with M. Smith collecting 10 points. McVay tallied 10 for the losers.

Eason's earned a 15-8 victory over Bob Curran's as Walker netted five points while Melvin and McKinnon had four each. Four different players scored two points for Curran's.

Dawson's opened with an 18-12 victory over Potters Bank & Trust with Vanmeter scoring seven and Golden six for the winners. March paced the Potters with eight.

The Seventh Grade division opens today at 4:10 p. m.

2nd-Ranked NYU Can't Halt Rockets

Toledo 'Wilts' Violets By 87-74; W. Michigan Gives Loyola Scare

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was prophetic. Just before second-ranked New York University took the court at Madison Square Garden for a game with unranked Toledo Thursday night, the NYU cheerleaders raced on the court totting a huge banner.

"We're No. 1," the flag boastfully, erroneously proclaimed. Right in front of the cheering section one of the cheerleaders got his feet tangled in the banner and took a tumble.

A few minutes later, so did NYU.

The Violets were out-rebounded, out-maneuvered and thoroughly played off the court by the fired-up Rockets, 87-74. Top-ranked Loyola of Chicago, the only other ranked team in action Thursday, had to work hard for a 105-102 decision over Western Michigan.

"I've been saying we've got a helluva team," jubilant coach Eddie Melvin of the Rockets, now 5-0 for the season, said. "Now maybe they'll believe me."

"How did I feel going against the No. 2 team? Hah, we should be No. 1 or 2. I've been saying we should be one of the top ten teams. This proves it."

They barged out to a quick 14-7 lead, using a spread-out, wide open offense, and simply took it from there. They moved calmly, deliberately on offense and used a harassing, shifting man-to-man defense that forced the frustrated Violets into mistakes.

It was NYU's first loss in four games.

And while the Violets were willing, the top-ranked Ramblers from Chicago Loyola had a severe scare thrown their way by Western Michigan before escaping with their fourth straight victory.

Little Manny Newsome, a 5-foot-10 sparkplug, was the chief tormentor of the defending national champions, throwing in 44 points. Ron Miller led the winners with 33 points.

On-rushing but unranked Oklahoma State remained unbeaten with a 71-64 triumph over Brigham Young.

In some of the other major ones, Rhode Island handled Brown 77-62, Iowa edged Southern Methodist 73-70, Oklahoma City bombed San Francisco 97-84, Providence whipped St. Louis 72-66, Colorado beat Houston 72-61, Notre Dame blasted Valparaiso 107-60, Texas Christian won from Florida State, 66-60, Memphis State romped over Marquette 88-74, Miami downed St. Mary's, Calif., 101-86, Villanova just got by Buffalo 58-56, Massachusetts walloped Boston College 93-74 and New Mexico edged Denver 49-43.

New York Picked To Top Steelers

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants and the Chicago Bears are the picks here in Sunday's "big ones" in the National Football League, set up a Giants-Bears title playoff at Wrigley Field, Dec. 29.

The NFL season ends Sunday with the conference championships hanging on the final games. Unless the Green Bay Packers stumble over San Francisco Saturday afternoon, the Bears will have to beat that tough Detroit club Sunday to be sure of winning the Western title.

Pittsburgh has a chance to win it all in its game with the Giants at Yankee Stadium. New York needs a victory or a tie to nail down their third straight Eastern crown. The Steelers would take the title on percentage points, .727 to .714 if they beat the Giants.

It is showdown weekend in the American Football League, too. The Boston Patriots can clinch the Eastern Division by winning at Kansas City Saturday. San Diego could wrap up the Western Division by whipping Houston if Oakland loses to Denver.

A perfect 7-0 weekend in the NFL and 3-1 in the AFL boosted the season record to 63-23-5 in the NFL and 25-17-3 in the AFL or a combined total of 91-40-3.

Here we go again—all games

Sunday unless otherwise indicated:

NFL
Green Bay 35, San Francisco 14 (Saturday)—Packers must win to keep hopes alive. A victory and a loss for the Bears Sunday would give them the title. A tie and a loss for the Bears would set up a playoff. This one on national (CBS) television.
Chicago 20, Detroit 17—They will play this one close to the vest with a field goal the likely margin.

New York 31, Pittsburgh 24—Giants will have Y.A. Tittle this time and Alex Webster is ready. Steelers will roll on the ground with John Henry Johnson the key, but Y.A. will do more damage if Giant pass blockers can handle Pittsburgh's rush. The battle will be won in the line.

Cleveland 28, Washington 21—Jimmy Brown riddled Skins in opening game 37-14 victory. Rumors say Bill McPeak's job may be at stake.

St. Louis 31, Dallas 21—Charlie Johnson pitching over the running of the Cowboys but nothing like their 34-7 romp on opening day.

Baltimore 28, Los Angeles 14—Johnny Unitas on beam and Rams are vulnerable to air attack. Colts bitter about 17-16 loss Nov. 24 on a field goal.

Minnesota 24, Philadelphia 21—Ron VanderKelen gets a starting chance for Vikings for first time. Eagles should be ready for supreme effort to save jobs and Nick Skorich's scalp.

Steelers Sign Martha, Frisco Lands Top Pick

By The Associated Press

The 14 teams in the National Football League aren't about to run out of money. But at the rate they're signing the nation's top college talent, they had better put in a rush order for some more checks.

The NFL lured two more of its first-round draft selections into the fold Thursday—Texas Tech end Dave Parks signing with San Francisco and Pittsburgh halfback Paul Martha signing with the Steelers—and took a commanding lead over the AFL in the checkbook battle.

The NFL now has signed nine of 10 first-round picks among the players who have committed themselves to one league or the other. The AFL has lured one away. On the other hand, the AFL has contracts from three of its No. 1 picks—one contested—and has lost two to the NFL.

Besides Parks, the No. 1 selection in NFL draft, and Martha, the NFL line-up shows:

Washington has signed Arizona State back Charles Taylor, Minnesota has Minnesota tackle Carl Eller, Los Angeles has Utah State quarterback Bill Munson, Baltimore has Indiana back Marv Woodson, New York has Oklahoma back Joe Don Leond, Cleveland has Ohio State back Paul Warfield and Chicago has Tennessee tackle Dick Evey.

The NFL has lost only Southern California quarterback Pete Beathard, the No. 1 choice of the Detroit Lions.

Smith, Brewer Pace East Jr. To 53-30 Win

Vern Smith and Emory Brewer combined for 30 points as East Junior High rolled to its second straight victory with Toronto a 53-30 victim Thursday on the East End floor.

Smith scored 16 points and Brewer 14 as the Panthers pulled away in the final quarter.

East only showed a 31-25 edge after three periods but outscored Toronto, 22-5 in the last quarter. Deryl Herring, who didn't score a point offensively, was singled out for his defensive work.

Allen scored 21 points for Toronto but was held to only one field goal by Herring in the fourth quarter.

East Junior meets Westgate Tuesday at 4:30 at Memorial Auditorium.

EAST JUNIOR—33
Cooper 4-1-9; Talbott 2-1-5; Brewer 6-2-14; Gooding 2-3-7; Loy 1-0-2; Smith 7-2-16; Herring 0-0-0.

TORONTO—30
Allen 5-11-21; Clegg 1-1-3; Stocks 1-1-3; Molchem 1-0-2; Barach 0-1-1.

Officials — Schneidmiller and Bishop.

Beaver Local Frosh Post 1st Victory

Beaver Local's freshman squad picked up its first victory in three starts by turning back Leetonia, 34-29, Thursday at Leetonia.

Grabbing a 9-2 first quarter lead, the young Beavers marched to a 19-10 halftime margin. Jeff Hall and Bill Barnhart teamed up to lead the Beavers with 11 and 10 points respectively.

Dewinsio paced Leetonia with 14.

Beaver Local will play host to Wellsville in its next game Tuesday at 6 p. m.

BEAVER LOCAL—34
Barnhart 4-2-10; Hall 5-1-11; Lyle 1-0-6; Knox 1-1-3; Matheny 2-0-4.
LEETONIA—29
Bell 3-0-6; Cozart 4-1-9; Dewinsio 7-0-14; Fyfelette 0-0-0; Haller 0-0-0.

Return Contest Puts Fernandez Against Rivero

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Rocky Rivero and Florentino Fernandez, a couple of Latin-American middleweights who are able exponents of the art of blocking punches with their heads, clash in a return television fight at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Rivero, a chubby Argentine with a jaw of steel, whipped the tall, bull-shouldered Cuban exile in their first meeting at the Garden on Nov. 1. Rocky was a 4-1 underdog that night and he's rated below Fernandez for the second fight but at lesser 8-5 odds.

The 24-year-old Buenos Aires belter and the 28-year-old Fernandez, now a Miami Beach resident, traded punches for the full 10 rounds in their first war at the Garden.

Rivero has a 40-8-1 record, including 36 knockouts. Fernandez' record is 36-7, including 30 knockouts.

The 10-rounder will be telecast nationally by ABC-TV. Starting time is 10 p. m., EST.

Johnson Set To Revamp Latin Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is reported planning a sweeping reorganization of the Alliance for Progress in a broad move to develop more dynamic and effective U.S. relations with Latin America.

A well-informed congressional source predicted a "complete reorganization and real shake-up" with changes in its top echelon and in the alliance methods of operation.

At the White House, press secretary Pierre Salinger told reporters Johnson is looking over the entire range of governmental operations to see how they could be improved. Salinger declined to discuss the alliance problems specifically.

Asked whether a reorganization would mean the replacement of Teodoro Moscoso as coordinator of the alliance operation, Salinger said he did not believe Johnson has had time to decide on the effectiveness of Moscoso's office.

There is widespread speculation in diplomatic quarters that Johnson may name Thomas C. Mann, 51, U.S. ambassador to Mexico, to some new high-level position with broad authority over the whole range of U.S. policies and operations in Latin America.

Mann, who has had long experience in Latin-American affairs as a career diplomat, was an assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs before he became ambassador to Mexico in 1961. Mann, a Texan, conferred with Johnson Wednesday.

The Alliance for Progress was set up by the late President John F. Kennedy with the aim of promoting sweeping social, economic and political reforms in Latin America.

Y. A. Tittle Named MVP

NEW YORK (AP) — Y. A. Tittle came home from work a little late—he is busy getting ready for the showdown game Sunday with the Pittsburgh Steelers—so his wife was the first to hear the news.

"That's just wonderful," Minnette Tittle said. "Y.A. will be so pleased. And imagine beating out Jimmy Brown. He's great."

The news was that Y.A. Tittle, the old Bald Eagle of the New York Giants, has been named the Most Valuable Player in the National Football League by an Associated Press panel of sports writers and broadcasters from the 14 league cities.

Tittle got 33 of the 40 votes cast and Brown, the fullback of the Cleveland Browns, the other seven.

"That's tremendous," said Tittle, when he got home from practice and got the word. "I'm proud and pleased. I hope I prove worthy, especially in Sunday's game. That's the big one."

The Giants and the Steelers will play winner-take-all for the Eastern Division title.

Tittle has been just about all the offense for the Giants, and usually he has been enough. The Giants lead the league in scoring by a wide margin.

Tittle has thrown 33 touchdown passes this year, equaling his own league record set last year. He has 204 completions in 341 attempts for a 59.8 percentage and 2,837 yards.

The star quarterback, who is 37 and looks maybe five years older than that with his weather-beaten face and bald head, also has established two NFL career records with 199 touchdown passes and 1,954 passes.

Tittle said his selection as MVP shouldn't make any difference in the game Sunday. "I don't think the Steelers go around with my press clippings in their pocket," he said. "And I was going to go all out any way."

Y.A. stands for Yelberton Abraham.

But even his wife calls him "Y.A."

Only One He Planned For Himself Kennedy's Assassination To Hasten His Memorial

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—The assassination of President John F. Kennedy will hasten construction of the only memorial he is known to have planned for himself, a monument labeled his dearest wish.

The project is a library to house his papers and effects on the Harvard University campus where Kennedy was a student in the late 1930s. He selected the site for the library several months ago.

Kennedy could not foresee the irony in the site selection. A building a few hundred yards away bears the title "New England Book Depository Library." A harsh reminder of the Texas School Book Depository in Dallas where the assassin fired the fatal shots.

The late President's brothers and Harvard President Nathan M. Pusey outlined details last week for construction of the $6-million library. They invited people everywhere to contribute toward its construction "as a tangible expression of love and respect."

Harvard donated more than two acres of land for the building on the site Kennedy inspected Oct. 19. He was assassinated Nov. 22.

Pusey said Harvard would not build on land close to the library. "Nothing will detract from it," he said. "We want it to be

Priest Bids For Release Of Hostages

ORURO, Bolivia (AP) — An American priest resumes his efforts today to win release of four Americans and other hostages held by Bolivian tin miners demanding that the government free two Communist mine union leaders.

Msgr. Andrew A. Kennedy of St. Louis, Mo., said he would disregard government warning that it would be risky for another American to enter the miners' stronghold.

Bolivia's dissident Vice President Juan Lechin, leader of the rebellious miners, assured the priest Thursday night he could go in safety to the Catavi-Siglo Veinte area, 30 miles south of Oruro, where the miners are holding the hostages.

In La Paz, the capital, about 5,000 workers marched through the streets Thursday night shouting denunciations of President Victor Paz Estenssoro and "American militarism."

The demonstrators demanded the release of the two union leaders, who have been charged with murder, attempted murder, anarchy and embezzlement.

Msgr. Kennedy, a member of the staff of the Roman Catholic vicar general of La Paz, arrived in Oruro Wednesday. Informed sources said he had been in contact with representatives of the miners' union and union leaders were willing for him to mediate.

He was said to be carrying a letter from the two jailed Communists, Irineo Pimental and Federico Escobar, expressing hope for a peaceful settlement.

President Paz Estenssoro has refused to yield the two prisoners, explaining that their release would undermine law and order.

Baylor, 'Big O' Miss Games, But Their Teams Win

By The Associated Press

Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers and Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals may be two of the outstanding players in the National Basketball Association, but they're certainly not indispensable.

Baylor and Robertson were sidelined for their team's games Thursday night but it didn't make any difference as far as the Lakers and the Royals were concerned.

Los Angeles whipped the Baltimore Bullets 120-105 as Baylor missed the game with a severe cold. A knee injury benched Robertson but Cincinnati turned back the New York Knicks, 112-102.

Jury Awards Damages In Arrest Case

LISBON — A verdict of $1,850 in compensatory and punitive damages was awarded Thursday to a University Heights man in a suit for "malicious prosecution" filed against a Salem man and two others involved in a 1954 traffic arrest case.

Milton Schulman was given the verdict by a Common Pleas Court Jury against George Bodirnea Jr. of Salem, but no damages were awarded against State Highway Patrolman Thomas Davis, a co-defendant.

Schulman had sought $75,000 from Bodirnea, Patrolman Davis and Felix Butch of Lisbon, former justice of the peace, but Judge Raymond Buzzard ordered a directed verdict for Butch.

Schulman was acquitted on three traffic counts originally filed by Bodirnea with the arrest made by Patrolman Davis and with Butch binding him over to the Grand Jury.

Bodirnea claimed Schulman's car ran two other cars off a road.

The jury yesterday awarded $350 compensatory damages and $1,500 punitive damages against Bodirnea.

Sheriff's Reluctant Prisoner Committed

A balky Weirton prisoner, whose resistance to confinement caused Hancock County Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny to be hospitalized, was taken to Weston State Hospital Thursday.

Jerome Huntley, 22, was ordered committed by Circuit Judge James G. McClure and was taken in a straitjacket this morning by two deputies.

When deputies tried to confine Huntley Tuesday afternoon, he began to struggle and it required the efforts of the sheriff, three deputies and a visitor to subdue the 6-foot-1, 200-pound Weirton resident.

Sheriff Manypenny collapsed after the struggle and was taken to Weirton General Hospital, where he remains in "good" condition today. He was suffering from exhaustion, bumps and bruises of the body, and bites of the hands and arms. Deputy Joseph Rainey was treated for a bite on the right wrist.

Police, FBI Puzzled About $84,031 Theft

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police and FBI agents remained puzzled today about how someone took a bag containing $84,031 from a night deposit vault.

The lock of the vault of the North Side branch of the Fifth Third Union Trust Co. had not been tampered with and seven other deposit bags were found intact.

Dwight McKinnley, 30, an employee of Superior Chevrolet Sales Co., told police he put the bag in the vault late Wednesday. Police said a lie detector test McKinnley requested indicated he did this.

Police were told the bag contained $31,677 in checks and $2,354 in cash.

Accused Bank Robber Due Sanity Hearing

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—George E. Obrist Jr. of Bellbrook, charged with six bank robberies is scheduled for a sanity hearing next Tuesday.

Obrist was returned here Thursday after two months of psychiatric treatment at the Springfield Federal Hospital in Missouri.

He was arrested following the robbery of a Chillicothe bank Oct. 3. During questioning he was implicated in five other holdups in Columbus and Dayton.

The sanity hearing will determine whether Obrist is capable of standing trial.

Former Salem Man Conveyed To Prison

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan and Chief Deputy Robert Beresford took a former Salem man to the Ohio State Penitentiary Thursday to begin serving a sentence imposed in Common Pleas Court.

Kenneth Kinser, 32, received 1-20 years after he pleaded guilty to forging a $250 check stolen from the Kannal Coal Co. in 1962.

While Kinser was out on bond, he went to Florida and was returned two weeks ago by Sheriff VanFossan and Prosecutor G. William Brokaw.

Moving On Schedule

NEW RICHMOND, Ohio (AP)—This Ohio River village's "let's paint the whole bloom'n' town" project is going ahead on schedule.

New Richmond is flooded almost every spring, and residents decided last winter to spruce up the town by painting its buildings. Right now survey teams are contacting homeowners to find out how many buildings may need a new paint job.

PTA Program Slated

SUMMITVILLE — A Christmas program will be presented by students at a meeting of the Franklin Parent - Teacher Association Monday night at 8 at the Franklin School.

Donnalley of Lisbon were admitted to Salem Central Clinic. James B. Reilly, 1994 Lisbon St., remains a patient at Mercy Hospital at Pittsburgh, where he was admitted Nov. 25.

John Spak Jr. of Irontdale is recuperating at City Hospital after surgery.

Train Flagman Hurt By Crank Case Blast

CINCINNATI (AP)—Carl Harding of Hamilton was reported in good condition today at St. Mary Hospital with back injuries he suffered when the crank case on a New York Central diesel locomotive exploded.

Police said the explosion Thursday caused the brakes to go on and Harding was hurled to the floor of the caboose. He had been working as flagman on the 60-car freight train going from Cincinnati to Connersville, Ind.

Groups Plan Vote On Park

Plans for Chester's special election Feb. 4 on the proposed assessment of 50 cents per month on each dwelling, to provide funds for the City Park, were discussed at a joint meeting of the Chester City Park Commission and Mrs. Harold Ossman, Lloyd Mansfield and R. M. McFarland, tri-chairmen of the City Park Central Committee. Wednesday night at the city hall.

It was decided that only one voting place will be used, that being at the City Hall. Printed material on the park, explaining what has been done in the past, plans for the future and general information, will be distributed about a week to 10 days prior to the election, urging the support of the assessment. The Junior Women's Club will attempt to reach more persons by telephone. The assessment would run for three years.

Harold Dickey, commission chairman, said a joint meeting with the central committee will be held Jan. 9.

Other members of the commission attending were John Pinney and Lawrence Cline.

Chester Lions Support Levy

The Chester Lions Club Thursday night endorsed a proposed 50-cent monthly levy for funds for the City Park, an issue up for consideration in a special city election Feb. 4.

At the meeting at the City Park community building, Atty. Callie Tsapis, Hancock County representative to the House of Delegates, spoke on the 1963 session of the West Virginia Legislature.

It was announced a Christmas tree sale will begin Saturday with Jerry D'Angelo in charge.

James Wallace and Marvin Snyder will direct erection of a Nativity scene near the City Hall.

Sayre Graham, president, reported on recent club visitations by himself and Walter Jordan. Seventeen attended.

2 Men Given Prison Terms

Two Pennsylvania men were sentenced Thursday to the Ohio State Penitentiary by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp when their requests for probation were denied. Another man was ordered to the Lima State Hospital for 60 days observation.

Elvis L. Ware, 39, of Pittsburgh received 1-7 years for grand larceny and 6 months in the County Jail for operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent. He pleaded guilty to stealing a pocketbook containing $30 and a car in East Liverpool, where he was arrested.

Danner D. Adkins, 43, of Industry was given 1-3 years for issuing a fraudulent check April 18 at the First National Bank in East Liverpool.

Both men had very poor past records, court said in denying probations.

Francis Goering Sr., 42, of Leetonia R. D. 1 was ordered taken to the state hospital before the court considers his request for probation.

He pleaded guilty to non-susp-port of his seven minor children. Investigation showed that the Welfare Department has given his family over $12,000 in support because he has refused to assume his obligations.

At Christmas Event

High School Group Gives Program At BPW Dinner

"The Melodettes," a group of junior and senior members of the East Liverpool High School Concert Choir, presented the program for the Christmas dinner party of the Business and Professional Women's Club Wednesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

Wearing their new blue satin sheath dresses for the first time, they sang "Silver Bells," "Winter Wonderland" and a novelty arrangement of "Pine Cones and Holly Berries."

Miss Arletta Helfrich, supervisor of vocal music, directed the students, who introduced themselves individually.

Mrs. Eva Mills, program chairman, presented the choir and conducted roll call to "my most remembered Christmas gift."

Caroling was enjoyed as members exchanged Christmas gifts. Prizes went to Mrs. Clara Lowers, Mrs. Ann Claypool and Mrs. Mildred Urie.

Mrs. Doris McKinnon, president, presided for business and announced the Executive Board meeting for this month has been canceled.

Mrs. Wilma Mason, executive secretary of the City Hospital Hospitality Center, was named "Woman of the Month." Noted for her decorating ability, she has served on virtually every committee of the club.

An invitation was read from the Quota Club to attend a reception honoring Miss Gladys DeBolt, recently named governor of the 6th District of Quota International, Sunday afternoon, Dec. 29, at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex.

Miss Roberta Pennybaker, membership chairman, spoke on committee plans. She presented gifts to those with birthday anniversaries in December. Name tags, featuring Yule emblems, were made by Mrs. Urie. Mrs. Margaret Wotring, Mrs. Edna Jones and Miss Helfrich.

Mrs. Eileen Brown, personal development chairman, reported on the recent conference in Columbus and commended Mrs. Ethel Lynn Wambaugh, state chairman, on the success of the event attributed to her planning and arranging.

A report on the Christmas party for the Child Health Clinic was given by Mrs. May Hart, chairman, who asked members to assist with the decorating of the Elks Club ballroom tonight and at the party Sunday afternoon at 1.

Covers were arranged for 75 at tables decorated in a holiday theme with cone tapers in brass holders and Christmas novelties. Favors were nylon net pompons and date books. Mrs. Mary McCullough gave the blessing.

Mrs. Mills was assisted by Mrs. Ethel Harvey, Mrs. Ruth Russell, Mrs. Mildred Cooper, Mrs. Bertha Kaufman, Mrs. Hart, Mrs. McCullough, Mrs. Claypool and Miss Helfrich.

Roundtable Held For 30 Scouters

Thirty attended the Boy Scout Roundtable Wednesday night at the YMCA.

Milton Reese, district commissioner, presided. Den mothers exchanged Christmas craft gifts.

A discussion was held on various Christmas projects. Den mothers are to submit favor and napkin holder ideas for January in preparation for the Blue and Gold month of February at the meeting Jan. 8. Mrs. Mary Jones presided at the den mothers' session.

Bennett Taylor of Lisbon, Columbiana Council executive, discussed the Polar Bear camp planned in January. All Cub Scouts will be invited to a four-hour visitation at the camp. Taylor said they should dress warmly.

Dave O'Hanlon was in charge of the club leaders' session and discussed the Pine Wood Derby.

Pack 12 won the attendance award and O'Hanlon won a prize. Russell Howell, cubmaster of Pack 59, led group singing.

Barron Picks 14 For Europe Trip To Promote State Trade

CHARLESTON — Gov. W. W. Barron has named a 14-man group to go to Europe next spring as West Virginia's first World Trade Mission.

The men represent all major areas of West Virginia's economy. They will attempt to increase trade between European countries and West Virginia.

Barron made a trip with a similar purpose last summer. He visited Germany, Italy, France and England.

Two of the men in the mission are state officials—Curtis Trent Barron's executive assistant; and J. Henry Barbour, a "liaison man" for the State Commerce Department.

All those making the trip will pay their own expenses. Others in the group are:

Wayne Fletcher of Huntington, director of industrial development for the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad; Lawrence Forbes of Roanoke, Va., coal traffic manager for the Norfolk & Western Railway.

Verl Johnson of Cincinnati, executive vice president of Appalachian Coals, Inc.; Homer Bussa of Wheeling, director of Region 23 of the United Steel Workers; A. C. Spurr of Wheeling, retired president of Monongahela Power Co.

Eugene A. Carter of Charleston, president of the Teamsters Joint Council No. 84; Fred Matson of Martinsburg, president of Matson & Co.; Ivor Boiarsky

Mayor Receives Christmas Card From Liverpool

The mayor of East Liverpool has received a Christmas card from the mayor of Liverpool and now the mayor of East Liverpool is preparing to send a card to the mayor of Liverpool.

That exchange of Yule greetings between the chief executives of the two "namesake" cities has been going on for at least a dozen years.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet received a huge card Thursday from the lord mayor and lady mayoress of Liverpool, England, Alderman and Mrs. John McMillan. He said a card will be on the way to the English couple today with greetings from East Liverpool.

The Liverpool card, sent Monday via air mail, was addressed to: "The Worshipful, The Mayor of East Liverpool." The cover illustration is a view of Lake Urmay in North Wales.

A few years ago one of the Liverpool newspapers carried a long feature story on East Liverpool, including photos, and cited this community as one of many around the world which took its name from the English city. The exchange of cards has continued since then between the two mayors.

Wreck Injuries Fatal

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Injuries received in a traffic collision on U.S. 23 a mile north of here Monday resulted in death Thursday night for Theodore Abbott, 9, of Akron. He died in Chillicothe Hospital.
